Strategy On Israel, Arab Changing Up

U. S. Moves To Ease Tension In Mid-East States

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (UP)—The United States today was sharply revising its strategy to ease tension between Israel and the Arab states.

Policy studies underway indicate there may be a new peace move soon based primarily on settling the plight of 900,000 Arab refugees—with the United States playing only a behind-the-scenes diplomatic role.

Two years ago this month, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, with President Eisenhower's backing, proposed a different approach. In a major foreign policy speech in New York, he outlined a carefully drawn sweeping "package" proposal. The plan covered Middle Eastern boundary settlements, water development and irrigation projects, loans to Israel and other measures to attack the problem of refugee compensation and resettlement.

Different Approach

Middle East reaction was very cool.

Dulles concentrated on the problem this week again before leaving for a brief vacation. It can be said that the Eisenhower administration now feels the "package" approach will have to be shelved in favor of a new start centering on the refugee problem.

The United States, instead of jumping out in front, is pursuing a behind-the-scenes role. Secret, informal talks on possible Middle East moves are under way with Canada, Norway, Yugoslavia and other countries. The center of activity has been at the United Nations in New York.

Initial Phase Underway

Preliminary diplomatic spadework with nations which have interests and troops in the Middle East may be completed by mid-September when the United Nations General Assembly holds its regular session in New York.

Butler Charges 'Saboteurs' At Work In Party

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 10 (UP)—Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler said today a little group of "saboteurs" is at work within the party trying to capture control so they can dictate the 1960 presidential ticket.

Without naming names, Butler said this group for selfish reasons would attempt to "wreck our programs and halt our progress."

'Resist Vigorously'

"So long as I am privileged to be national chairman of our great party," Butler added, "I will resist vigorously any and all attempts made by any clique or small group to gain control of our national party for the furtherance of their own selfish aims."

Butler's remarks were in a speech prepared for a caucus of the Southern California Democratic Executive Committee. Efforts to get him to identify his targets were unavailing. An aide in Washington party headquarters, who distributed the speech in advance, told a reporter who had sought elaboration:

'Didn't Elaborate'

"I reached Butler by long distance. He said he didn't care to comment or elaborate. He said he will stand on the speech."

A story was published a month ago that a small group, including former National Chairman Frank E. McKinney, met with former President Truman and discussed the replacement of Butler as national chairman.

The group, also reported to have included Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Senate majority leader, was said to have talked of making Earle C. Clements, former Kentucky senator, the national chairman. Clements is now executive director of the Senate Democratic Campaign Committee.

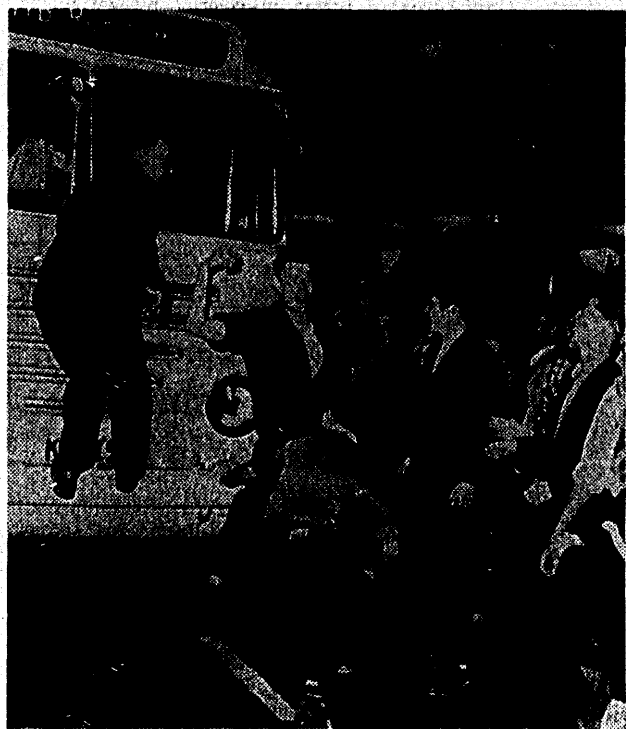

All the principals in this published account denied such a meeting took place.

Lower Value Of Franc In France

PARIS, Aug. 10 (UP)—The French government tonight announced a series of measures that add up to a 20 per cent devaluation of the franc for most sections of the economy.

Tourists and other individuals and businesses bringing foreign currency into France will get a 20 per cent premium over the official rate of 350 francs to the dollar.

Each of their dollars will buy 420 francs, just about the going rate in the Paris black market.

ROCKING DANES HALT TRAFFIC—Danish "leather-jackets," Copenhagen's version of America's rock-and-roll teen-agers, bring a bus to a halt in Stroget, Copenhagen's main shopping street, after seeing the American movie, "Rock Around the Clock." The rock-and-rollers were quieted by riot squad police wielding clubs and the arrest of 25 youths. It is believed further showings of the film will be banned in Danish movie houses. (AP Wirephoto)

HANDLED BY GOV'T

Want States To Take 5 Programs

HERSHEY, Pa., Aug. 10 (UP)—A group of governors and federal officials tentatively recommended today that the states take over all or parts of five programs now handled by the federal government.

This was the first concrete result of a study suggested by President Eisenhower on how to return to the states some of the vast powers now exercised by Washington.

The group tentatively agreed that the President's idea should first be tried in the fields of vocational education, disaster relief, the school lunch program, water pollution, and supplemental old age assistance programs.

Should Drop Some Taxes
In return for the states taking on all or parts of these jobs, the group said, the federal government should consider abandoning to the states a number of excise taxes and allowing the states to take a greater share of gift and inheritance tax collections.

Partly Cloudy Weather Seen

Partly cloudy is the weather outlook for today, with scattered showers in the northwest portion of the state tonight.

The maximum recorded yesterday in Monroe was down two degrees from Friday's reading, with a high of 92 registered. The minimum reading remained the same, with a 73 recorded.

Arkansas may also expect thunderstorms today and tonight, with highest temperatures in the low nineties.

HELD HOSTAGE

Distraught Family Rests After 24 Hours Of Terror

CANTON, Ohio, Aug. 10 (UP)—A distraught family of six, three generations, rested under sedation at the homes of relatives near here today to overcome 24 hours of concentrated terror in which they were held hostage by three robbers armed with six stolen pistols.

The men earlier had robbed a grocery and seriously wounded a police officer.

The three finally flushed from the rural home by tear-gas, said they picked the home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Fenstermaker "at random" for a hideout. They were fleeing the $400 robbery of a market and the shooting of Patrolman Harris Lillie, 44, of near-by Louisville.

The robbers, who surrendered when 100 law officers ringed the house and peppered it with tear gas, will not be formally charged until Lillie wins or loses his fight for life. He was "improving" at Mercy hospital, following surgery for a gunshot wound in the abdomen.

Night Of Terror

"Why did they have to pick on our house?" Mrs. Miriam Fenstermaker, 54, phrased aloud the thoughts of her husband, 62; their children, Russell, 30; Dale, 12; and Connie, 14; and Russell's daughter, Peggy Lou, 9.

"That's the worst thing we've ever had," the grandmother continued. A physician checked the six, gave them sedatives and sent them to their relatives' homes.

The 24-hour trial began Thursday night when the trio arrived by car, a stolen auto which eventually led to their capture. The day of panic ended Friday night when the gunmen surrendered one-by-one, stepping into the ring of 100 officers armed with tear gas and backed by an armored car supplied by the Canton Police Department.

Car Seen In Garage
Their stolen 1951 model auto, bearing California plates, was noted Friday evening in the Fenstermaker garage by a neighbor, who informed Louisville Police Chief Kenneth White. White and Sgt. E. W. Mallory of the Ohio Highway Patrol went to the home. There, Mallory saw a child standing under the point of a gun while White talked with Mrs. Fenstermaker. The officers retreated quickly, but returned with aid.

Flushed from the house they had "occupied" in a flight from crime were Walter Joseph Miller, 28, Los Angeles; William Rhodes, 25, Anderson, Ind.; and Robert Llewellyn Kline, 25, Phoenix, Ariz. They said they met in the Army at Fort Ord, Calif., and "came East for a good time."

U. S. Revamping Basic Strategy For Military

FOR 'MORE TEETH'

GOP Holding Out In Rights Fight

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (UP)—House Republican leaders held out today for a compromise that would put more teeth in the Senate's heavily amended civil rights bill.

GOP Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. (Mass.) said he will be willing to stay in session "until Christmas" if necessary to get a "proper" bill.

Rep. Kenneth B. Keating (N.Y.) Republican civil rights floor leader, rejected a Democratic compromise, offered Friday night by fellow New Yorker Emanuel Celler, to limit the Senate's controversial jury trial amendment to voting rights cases in lower courts.

Sensors Predict Compromise
The Celler compromise, he said, is virtually the same jury trial amendment the House rejected by a 93-vote margin when it was considering the rights bill.

Keating conceded that it would eliminate what he called some "ridiculous" features of the Senate bill, but said that so far as the House is concerned it would be no compromise but a complete surrender on the jury trial issue.

Sensors from both parties predicted the House will come around to a compromise close to the Senate's bill—a measure limited to protection of Negro voting rights through federal government-sought court injunctions, plus investigation of other rights violations.

Johnson Blasts GOP Chairman
Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) said in a Senate speech that differences over the bill could easily be worked out between the two houses if "political partisans will stop thinking about votes and turn instead to the question of the right to vote."

Johnson assailed Republican National Chairman Meade ALCORN for "laying down the line" to GOP congressmen, calling on them to hold out for a bill closer to the administration's proposals. "The oldest trick in the partisan book is to scream that there isn't enough progress and then demand no progress at all," the Democratic leader said. "This time I do not think it will work."

Health Service Announces Flu Epidemic Fight

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (UP)—The Public Health Service announced today plans for a nationwide battle against an expected fall and winter Asian flu epidemic.

Starting next month, it will call on Americans in populous areas to roll up their sleeves and take the new Asian flu vaccine.

At the same time, it will help set up emergency medical plans for dealing with mass outbreaks, which could stall the business life and essential services of whole communities.

Started Producing
Six private drug firms have started producing the newly developed vaccine. By mid-September, when "flu weather" begins in some northern U. S. areas, about eight million one-CC. doses will be ready. The Military services have already contracted for half of these.

By mid-winter the manufacturers hope to have turned out 60 million doses.

Urges Public
A national campaign to urge the public to get the preventive shots will be launched in September through the press, radio, television, pamphlets, posters and community meetings.

"The disease is no more deadly than the common variety of influenza. In about 20,000 recorded cases in the United States, only three persons have died."

Britain Charges Red Interference

LONDON, Aug. 9 (UP)—Britain accused Russia today of sending guns, tanks, planes and instructors to another Mideastern trouble spot—Yemen, whose desert ruler claims British-protected Aden.

The British Foreign Office hinted strongly, too, that Egypt also has had a hand in helping arm the Red Sea Arab state.

CHILDREN KILLED BY A SHELL—The unexploded head of a bazooka shell (foreground) lies near the covered bodies of three children killed when a bazooka shell with which the youngsters were playing exploded in yard of a home in nearby Weigelstown late yesterday. A fourth youngster and a man sunning himself nearby also were hurt in blast. Police said one of the youngsters apparently climbed a tree (not shown) and dropped shell. Persons in background are unidentified. (AP Wirephoto)

'Big Steel' Sees Rising Inflation

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (UP)—"Big Steel's" top financial expert told Congress today that inflation is likely to continue so long as wage increases exceed advances in worker productivity.

Robert C. Tyson, chairman of the finance committee of U. S. Steel Corp., defended his company's recent $6-a-ton price increase, which was followed by industrywide price hikes.

The Senate anti-trust and monopoly subcommittee is investigating the steel increases to determine whether "administered prices" in this basic industry are primary or avoidable causes of creeping inflation in the entire U. S. economy.

"Unrelenting Rise"
Tyson told the committee that the "unrelenting and rapid rise" in wages is the "big basic cost factor" that made the steel price rise necessary.

Once inflation has started, he said, "the alternatives are to try to keep productive America functioning with cost-covering price increases, or to head it toward the insolvency that no one really wants."

"The records of U. S. Steel cumulatively and convincingly show," he said, "that as long as nationwide wage inflation continues at rates exceeding the increases in productivity, price inflation will be compelled."

Appearing with board chairman Roger M. Blough, Tyson defended U. S. Steel's price hike and rejected arguments that company's (Continued On Page Eleven-A)

IN RESCUE TRY

Daredevil Mountaineers Scale 'Death Mountain'

GRINDELWALD, Switzerland, Aug. 10 (UP)—Six daredevil mountaineers scaled the summit of "Death Mountain" today in their death-defying attempt to rescue four stranded climbers.

Three of the stranded climbers were clinging to the face of a sheer wall and the other was dangling by a rope over a chasm nearly two miles deep.

The six mountaineers reached a point 300 feet above the top of the north wall of 13,038-foot Mount Eiger, and 900 feet above the exhausted German and Italian Alpinists who have been buffeted by gale winds and icy snow since Wednesday.

Authorities at Grindelwald said the rescuers would have to wait for additional mountaineers bringing equipment before attempting to remove the climbers from their perilous perch. Alpinists bringing up the rescue gear had to turn back when they were unable to clamber up a dangerous ascent.

The men in the column backtracked and began the climb from a different direction.

Killer Mountain

The plan is to lower rescuers by steel cables down the sheer rock and ice wall on the north slope of Eiger to haul up the climbers.

It was believed that no attempt could be made until Sunday because darkness was fast closing in on the grim Alpine ridges.

Eiger Mountain is a killer. The north wall, where the four men are trapped, was not conquered until 1938.

More than 50 persons have been killed in the area since the beginning of the year. Veteran Alpinists criticized the four climbers for their "suicidal attempt" to scale the Eiger north wall.

All Four Men Alive
Three of the four are loosely roped together on a ledge, exposed to blinding snow squalls. The fourth, dangling from a rope, was injured in a fall Wednesday while the group was making the dangerous descent. Beneath him is a 10,000-foot drop. His three companions have spent more than 90 hours trying to pull him up to the ledge, and they were believed exhausted.

A pilot, who flew within 36 feet of the dangling climber Friday said he believed the man was dead. But today, officials using powerful binoculars reported all four were alive. They also were seen waving to an Alpine air rescue service plane.

Believe Atom War Within 'Possibility'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—President Eisenhower and the National Security Council are understood to be recasting the nation's basic military-political strategy.

The idea is to make the strategy conform to the spreading development of small atomic weapons and an official conviction that limited nuclear warfare will be possible in future.

Whatever understanding may have been reached between Russia and Soviet leaders at the 1955 summit conference that a nuclear war is impossible is regarded here as no longer valid.

Chance For 'Small' War

It is presumed that Russia, as well as the Western powers, would like to avoid a world-engulfing atomic holocaust and will make determined efforts to that end. However, the belief that any East-West atomic conflict would lead to total devastation is giving way here to the idea that the extensive of small nuclear weapons will make a limited military clash or "brush fire" conflict, entirely conceivable in the coming years.

This concept is reported to have inspired a profound rethinking of basic policy and planning.

Officials say the full implications will become clear only as tactical atomic weapons are fully developed and integrated into the nation's military services. However, two points of major importance stand out speculatively at the moment:

Retaliation Plan

1. The Eisenhower administration has built its military-political policy toward Russia around the theory of "massive retaliation." (Continued On Page Eleven-A)

Storm Causes Texas Rains As It Blows Out

DALLAS, Aug. 10 (UP)—Tropical storm Bertha was blustering itself out in squalls and torrential rains over Texas tonight.

Livingston, Tex., north of Houston, in southeast Texas, reported more than 10 inches of rain since 4 p. m. Friday. It flooded a road. Eight hundred persons from Cameron, La., who fled inland to Lake Charles, Thursday, returned home today in a long procession of automobiles.

Almost Wiped Out

Cameron was the town that Hurricane Audrey almost wiped out six weeks ago, when it killed about 500 persons there and in nearby communities.

They found that the major damage to Cameron from Storm Bertha was to a tent city and a feeding shelter the Red Cross had put up after Hurricane Audrey. But they found three of the pitifully few houses that remained in Cameron burned. They caught fire Friday, before Bertha hit Cameron with 60-70 mile-an-hour winds.

House Burns

Jim Singletary, one of 14 persons who stayed behind to await Bertha, set his home on fire while cooking supper. The house next to it and a lean-to being used as a home burned. The town fire truck was in Lake Charles. "If it had not been for a ditch of rainwater, we would have been in real trouble," Sheriff O. B. Carter said.

Homer B. Gee Is Boy's State Representative

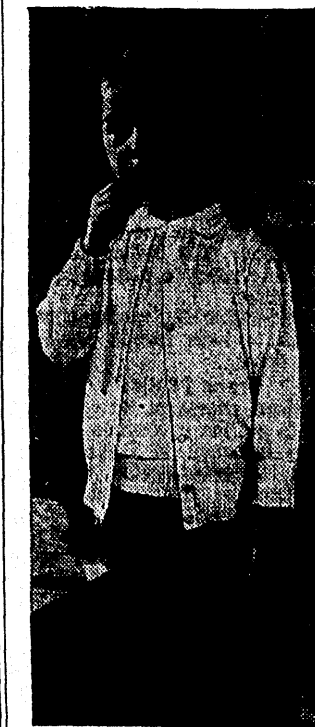

OAK RIDGE (Special) — Homer B. Gee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Gee of Oak Ridge has been selected by the Oak Ridge High School faculty as the community's representative to Boy's State. Boy's State is to acquaint boys with works of the government and train them to be leaders in their school and community. Homer leaves Sunday, August 11th for Baton Rouge, where Boy's State is held each year, and will be gone one week. The Lions Club of Oak Ridge sponsors the Oak Ridge Representative each year.

Homer will be a senior when school opens in the fall and will serve as business manager of The Banker, the Oak Ridge High School annual. He has been active in all school events and plays on the baseball and basketball teams. He is a member of the Future Farmers of America and during the past year was reporter for the group. He is also a member of the Boy Scouts and a school representative to the Community Council. Homer is a member of the Oak Ridge Baptist Church and a leader in BTU.

West Carroll To Explain Bond Issue

OAK GROVE (Special) — Provisions of the $125,000 West Carroll industrial bond issue for construction of a yarn canning plant will be explained throughout West Carroll parish at special meetings for residents, according to D. B. Fiske, West Carroll Economic Development Corporation president.

The meetings are sponsored and will be conducted by the W. C. D. C. and the parish police jury, and will be held at the local schools, in seven communities. The meeting schedule is: Epps, August 19; Pioneer, August 20; Fiske Union, August 22; Forest, August 26; Goodwill, August 27; Kilbourne, August 29; and Oak Grove, September 2. Each will start at 8 p.m.

A GROWN-UP LOOK favors the young set in this sweater set of Tycora yarn. A short-sleeved, collared slipon is matched with a smart cardigan. Quick-drying, lightweight, and no laundry problem for moms.

Outdoor Attire For Males Is Sparked With Color

Fashions for a male's outdoor life are receiving more style attention for this fall.

Hooded jackets will be popular with boys eight to eighteen as well as with older males.

In winterweight wools, they give just the protection needed for walks to school and afterschool hours spent out of doors. These come in colorful blanket plaids, solid colors and a variety of stripes.

For more dressy occasions, when a short outer jacket won't do, a camel color, slim-cut wool topcoat, double-breasted with belted back, or a tweed coat in the looser raglan cut is required.

Sweaters for outdoor wear and for classrooms come in a variety of color and pattern, high-styled like those designed for older men. Bulky wools in soft Shetlands and traditional fine wool are both popular.

Stripes and color really come into their own in knits for the male wardrobe. Scandinavian-inspired designs are still holding sway in the boys' wear scene, but collegiate stripes and solids with fancy neck stylings are also fashion leaders with the younger lads.

Masons Confer Master Degree In Ferriday

FERRIDAY (Special) — The Master's Degree was conferred on Jack Lofton in Ferriday at the regular meeting of Ferriday Lodge 390 F. & A. M. last week.

A large attendance saw the degree team consisting of Herman Smith, Cecil Long, S. C. Hales, G. H. Tucker, Hubert Blackwell, P. H. Farmer, Dan Lynch, L. L. Taylor, Clyde G. Williams, Albert Cowan, Troy Cowan, and S. R. Gray perform the ceremonies.

Besides Ferriday Master Masons present, visitors from Waterproof, St. Joseph, and Vidalia were present to witness the Master Mason Degree.

P. H. Farmer, Secretary of Ferriday Lodge stated that there will be another meeting of the lodge on Tuesday August 13, at which time there will be two degrees conferred on two candidates.

Jaycees, Jaynes Hold Annual Dinner In LP

LAKE PROVIDENCE (Special) — The Lake Providence Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Jaycees Jaynes held their annual joint banquet last week at a local restaurant.

Tom Davis, president of the Jaycees presided at the informal meeting prior to the supper and introduced the special guests. Miss Beverly Norman "Miss Louisiana of 1957" from Shreveport, Louisiana, was present for the occasion, along with Hall Whiteside, also of Shreveport. Whiteside recently attended the National Junior Chamber of Commerce speech contest in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and was runner-up to the winner.

Approximately 75 members and guests were present for the banquet.

A costume without accessories is like a stage without a setting. Most often, a dress or suit doesn't come to life until proper jewelry, gloves, bag or scarf are added.

Knit, the big news, has "needed" its way into the accessory field to the delight of all. Formerly strictly a utilitarian item, knitted gloves now enliven many teen costumes with superb color, unusual length and design. Strips in knit add a striking accent. Still growing in popularity is the 6-foot knitted scarf—now a badge of the grammar through high school crowd.

Bags are growing up even for youngsters. Many big bags have added an outside pocket for hard-to-find-in-a-hurry items like keys and bus fare. Italian cowhide, the career girl's leather, now is fashioned in school girl bags.

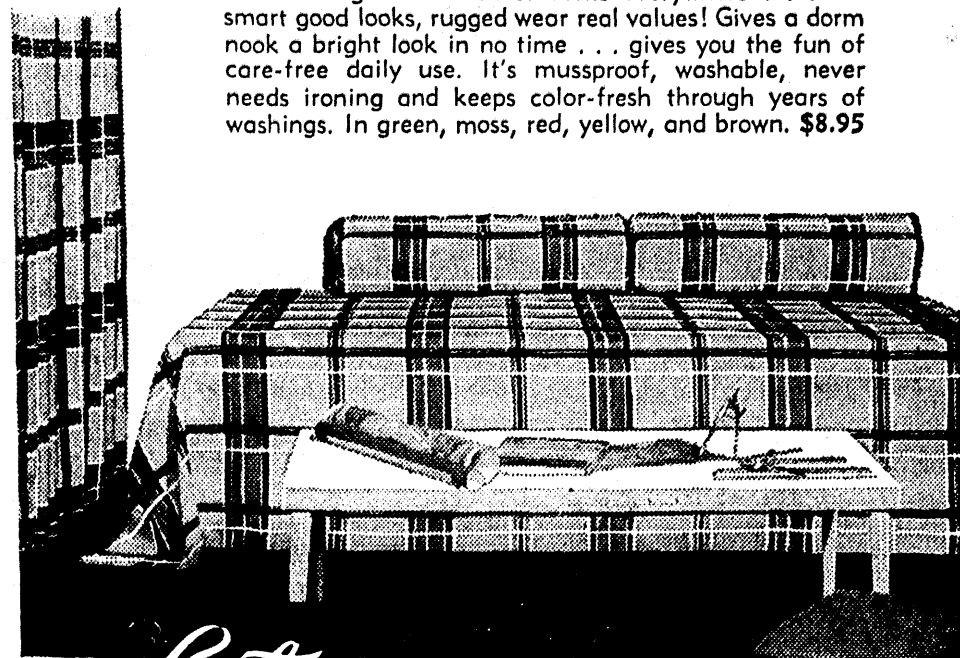

Up-to-the minute and personalized accessories are the most welcome accessories to the young girls.

Tillman is married to the former Kate Parham and they are parents of two children, Kyle, aged six, and Sheila, four.

Theft By Taxation

Is the United States government taxing some of its citizens so heavily that the taxes amount to theft?

Lawrence Dodd, British authority on taxation, says that taxation becomes theft when the taxpayer can say to the government:

"Very well, you take the income (or profit, or estate) and let me have the tax."

It can easily be seen that situation is reached when the amount of taxes passes 50 per cent of the income.

The top federal rate of income taxes in the United States is 91 per cent.

A prominent commentator remarked recently that, despite the constant cry for tax reduction, there is not really much demand for it. Each person would like to see his own taxes reduced but no group or organization or institution wants to receive less than it is now getting from the federal government.

The farmers don't want to lose the money that is used to guarantee them a good price for their crops. Airplane companies don't want to lose the subsidies that are necessary for many of them to continue in operation. No one is anxious to reduce our military forces to the danger point.

And so it goes. We want to pay less but we don't want to get less. All money that is paid out by the federal government or any other government must first be taken in from the people.

There is talk of cutting personal income taxes and every one would be glad to see such a cut. Yet, it is doubtful if anyone would feel much better off if the first (lowest) income bracket were changed. Most people in the United States get just about what they need to get along on, on the average, and not much more. There is reason to believe that wages have been advanced to a level sufficient to meet the amount of income tax paid by the average person. These things hold true despite the fact that the income tax for the average wage earner seems high and might well be lowered.

The real point, however, at which taxation seems to become confiscation or theft seems to be when the government takes more than half.

This one thing alone has taken away an advantage of which Americans used to boast so proudly. It has virtually removed the chance for anyone to become a millionaire or to accumulate a fortune without doing a lot of tax finagling and unless he earns money over a long period of years.

Any kind of sudden good fortune in the way of money is merely a sudden chance for the government to take the money and to leave the "fortunate" individual holding practically an empty sack. Anyone whose earning ability skyrockets for a short period can't keep the fortune he earns. We fail to see why there is any more reason to rob a person of the money he earns in a short time than there is to take it from him if he earns it over a long period. Yet, anyone who earns a big sum in one year, even though he may do no better than average the rest of his life, may see as much as 91 per cent of his earnings jerked away from him.

Most of us will never make a fortune, either suddenly or over a long period of years, yet all of us have dreamed of doing so and we would like for our country to give us the chance, if we can, as it once did.

No firm or individual should ever be forced to pay more than half his income for taxes, and that includes all form of taxes—not merely the withholding tax.

If we would abandon the so-called plan of "soak the rich," which merely means soaking anyone's chances to get ahead, and if we would snap off the sliding scale for income taxes at not more than 30 per cent, no matter how much the income, everybody would be better off.

"Business firms could accumulate more reserve, could make more profit and could pay higher wages.

Socialism Unlimited

The Tennessee Valley Authority, by its very nature, is socialism. It is Government ownership and operation of a very important industry in a great region of our land. We are not speaking, of course, of flood control, navigation and conservation; we are speaking of the electric power industry.

When the T. V. A. was first inaugurated, it was thought that the electric power part of it would be a very small tail attached to a very large dog. Now, after twenty-five years, we find it is an enormous tail attached to a very small dog. In fact, the dog now more or less goes along with the tail simply as an excuse for the tail being there at all.

All of which is just another illustration that while socialism might start out with a very small beginning—and therefore seem not worth noting by many people—it inevitably grows larger and larger unless brought to a complete stop.

Now there is being made a very strenuous effort by the advocates of public power to remove whatever shackles restrained the T. V. A. thus far and give it much greater freedom for expansion. Two bills—S 1869 and HR 4266—have been introduced in the Congress to this effect, the one in the House being even more liberal than the one in the Senate.

Actually, of course, there is no excuse for a socialistic enterprise in a free nation at all. If it is right that the Government should own and operate the coal mines, the oil wells, the railroads, the newspapers, the grocery stores and all other phases of our economic activity.

Let's take a look at these bills and see what they provide. In the first place, they give the T. V. A. economic power and freedom far beyond that ever enjoyed by any Government agency. Traditionally and constitutionally, federal agencies must get their funds from Congressional appropriations. With the exception of power revenues, this has been true of the T. V. A. This bill, however, would give the T. V. A. power to issue revenue bonds for the construction of power facilities with no limit imposed. The issuance of bonds would be completely exempt from all control by the Secretary of the Treasury. Moreover, they would be outside the national debt limit, even though it is generally recognized they would be a moral obligation of the federal government. Without control from either the legislative or executive branches of the federal government, it can very easily be seen how the T. V. A. could run "hog wild" in its financial operations. It would be a law unto itself.

More than that, the bills allow for geographical expansion of the T. V. A., not only to the entire Tennessee Valley drainage basin but also "to serve rural electric cooperatives serving countries contiguous to the Tennessee Valley drainage basin or said service area." This means that the monopolistic control which the T. V. A. has always exercised over the area which it has served and which has forced out of business all the private power industry in that area would be greatly extended. Using the word "contiguous" in the bill is reminiscent of the farmer whose only ambition was to own all the land contiguous to his own! Certainly this provision does not place much limit upon the expansion of the socialistic electric power industry in the Tennessee Valley area, and to say the very least would be of great harm to the private enterprise industry in the adjoining area.

If the T. V. A. is to be maintained as a government agency—for which no one but a socialist can give any good reason—then it should be governed by the same rules that govern all other government agencies. Moreover, it should be confined strictly to its original intent and purpose and to its original area, with its electric power industry operating under the same regulations and competing on an equal basis with the rest of the nation's electric power industry.

Once socialism is allowed to burst its bounds, then we are in for socialism unlimited!

Will the drought, having moved from Texas to New England in one year, be in the middle of the Atlantic next summer?

CONGRESSIONAL QUARTERLY

Congressmen Generally Agree That Lobbyists Helpful In Writing Laws

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (CQ)—Congressmen generally agree that lobbyists are a help in writing the Nation's laws.

Sixty-six percent of the Senators and Representatives answering a Congressional Quarterly poll said the lobbyists—often termed the "Third House of Congress"—help the legislators in understanding complicated legislative issues.

Only 3 per cent of the responding Congressmen said lobbyists were a hindrance to the legislative process; only 5 per cent thought Congress would be better off without lobbyists.

A small 11 per cent complained of having felt unreasonable pressure from the pressure groups. Many of these Congressmen singled out certain groups that raised their ire.

"The utility lobbyists," said Rep. Joe L. Evans (D. Tenn.), "are on the phones at night and up early in the morning with their propaganda against any who will listen to their tirades against public power projects benefiting the nation."

One Congressman who wished to remain anonymous complained of "unreasonable pressure... particularly from postal workers wanting a pay raise."

Also anonymous, said "the mean, distort legislative issues; only 5 per cent thought Congress would be better off without lobbyists."

A small 11 per cent complained of having felt unreasonable pressure from the pressure groups. Many of these Congressmen singled out certain groups that raised their ire.

But Rep. John M. Robison Jr. (R. Ky.) reflected the position of most of his Congressional colleagues in saying: "I find that I can secure helpful technical information from (lobbyists), keeping in mind their lack of objectivity."

Said Rep. Leo W. O'Brien (D. N. Y.): "I regard the ethical lobbyist as a means of implementing the right of any citizen to petition Congress. I could wish that some inarticulate groups of our people had lobbyists."

Voicing the sentiments of many who did not find lobbyists of much help, Rep. Edward J. Robison (D. Va.) said: "Some lobbyists are entertaining, a few helpful. Most are an unnecessary annoyance and take time."

Of the 528 sitting Congressmen polled, 122 answered and checked one or more of the 10 statements with these results:

People In Europe Prepare For Sudden Atomic Attacks

BONN, Germany—If you folks Danes are busy on similar construction. They, like the German Nikita Khrushchev believes that the Russians can now live by the black bread alone and is weary of whipping up bombs instead of butter, you're all alone in this world.

Over here, those who live 12 minutes from Soviet airfields, as the guided missile flies, expect the sudden atomic attacks and are digging deep beneath the rocks where their great cities are built.

From this peaceful city along the Rhine, the German government, through its Ministry of the Interior, has dispatched its engineers across Europe and they have returned with reports that foreign capitals are putting their living quarters, factories and air-ports under granite from 35 to 125 feet deep.

Word from Stockholm, for example, is that no permit is given for construction of a new apartment house unless it is built above a heavily encased basement bomb shelter. Just about now the Swedes are completing six huge public shelters.

One, in the heart of Stockholm, will take 20,000 people in five minutes. It shouldn't be a total loss, the shelter will be used as an underground garage, 35 to 40 feet under the city's granite floor, earning money until actually used for its original purpose.

The new vague puts the giant plants underground but, report the German government experts who have studied these shelters, they are completely air-conditioned, air filtered, skillfully lighted and even painted in gay, modern decor.

The rest of Scandinavia is as maintained so that rheumatic workers, for example, prefer them to above-ground plants.

There is the famed Bofors plant, dispersed over 25 miles above ground—but its sensitive department and machinery are deep in the rocks. The internationally renowned SKF ballbearing factories have hundreds of underground workers under the big city of Goteborg. The huge AFGH new bombs can reach the U. S. Maritime Company, one of the world's biggest, turns out sea-going stuff about 100 feet down.

The German specialists add that even the Swedish military men are taking no chances. Their Air Force control centers are dug deep under rock. Jet pilots are quartered in rock cabins. Rock hangars house the jet planes.

The rest of Scandinavia is as cynical about Big Brother Khrushchev. The Norwegians just finished an under-rock shelter where Oslo which will hold 6,000 people. The Finns and the Khrushchev's new eggs.

DR. CRANE SAYS

Simple Psychology Can Prevent Word Battles

Sister Benita shows how effectively modern teachers can combine practical psychology with moral principles. Over 80 of her pupils have completed the famous "COMPLIMENT CLUB" project and I have signed their official diplomas. You can also combine the "Golden Pen" project with theme writing in English classes.

Case V-360: Sister M. Benita, O. S. B., is a very beloved teacher in the Catholic school at St. Marys, Pennsylvania.

And I used that adjective "beloved" advisedly, for although I haven't met Sister Benita personally, I have corresponded with her. But what is more important, over 80 of her pupils have already joined the "COMPLIMENT CLUB."

I have personally signed the diplomas for these 80 youngsters, and I hope you realize what that diploma indicates.

It means those girls have paid three compliments per day for 30 consecutive days without a break. They have meanwhile written to the names of the people whom they have praised and have then composed a little essay on the changes they have noted in their own personalities, as well as in the greater number of friends that result from such membership. "Thousands of you readers, as well as former students of mine at Northwestern University and in various Sunday school classes, have also started out upon the "Compliment Club" experiment.

But most of you fall by the way side. Although it may seem easy to pay a bit of praise to three different people every day for 30 consecutive days, just try it.

It is my guess that 90 per cent of those who start, fail to finish the 30-day experiment.

They do very well for the first week or 10 days. But about the 15th to 17th day, they forget and break their chain of consecutive days with three compliments paid to their companions.

So these 80 pupils of Sister Benita deserve unusual commendation. And Sister Benita herself is setting such a superlative example.

Napoleonic Delusion By Teamsters Union

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Labor czars come and go, but Jimmy Hoffa, vice-president of the Teamsters Union, deserves a second look. He seems to be the first labor leader who really has had Napoleonic delusions. In this country, such persons are frowned on outside those buildings surrounded by high walls.

Hoffa, recently acquitted here of bribing a lawyer to spy on the McClellan committee, has now been revealed in the searchlight of that investigating body as allied with Johnny Dio, New York racket boss, in a plan to tighten his grip on Teamster Union affairs in the metropolitan area.

Americans are so accustomed to racketeering that it is doubtful they appreciate how immoral racketeers may become to their own way of living. But if Hoffa, who has only come into the limelight since Dave Beck, president of the Teamsters' Union, was exposed by the McClellan committee for misuse of union funds, goes ahead with his dream of controlling air, sea and land transportation in this country, it could be that not all the existing authority of the federal government could stop him.

His plan, as revealed by the Little Giant, a person, would be to hook together the Teamsters' Union, the country's largest with 1,500,000 members to the West Coast Longshoremen's Union, run by alleged Communist Harry Bridges, and the corresponding East Coast union, headed by Capt. Bill Bradley, a scarcely more desirable character than Bridges.

Hoffa would like to include the air lines and the railroads to place under one union "everything that rolls" with himself as head. Those who have checked are convinced he isn't kidding. And considering the efficiency with which the Teamsters' Union has operated in the past in enforcing its demands, that's unbelievable.

What's evidently operating in the back of Hoffa's mind is that if he succeeds Beck as Teamster president the AFL-CIO may rise above principle and toss out the Teamsters' Union as a great gesture to "save the American labor movement." His counter move then would be to launch the "one big union" which many labor chiefs have dreamed of heading. John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers among them. But Lewis, his friends are convinced will have nothing to do with Hoffa or his ambitions.

Nor would the railroad brother-

Remind Me, God

DEAR God, when I am lonely, and
... Perhaps I feel despair ...
Let not my ailing heart forget ... That You hear every prayer ...
Remind me that no matter what ... I do or fail to do ...
There still is hope for me as long ... As I have faith in You ...
Let not my eyes be blinded by ... Some jolly I commit ...
But help me to regret my wrong ... And to make up for it ...
Inspire me to put my fears ... Upon a hidden shelf ...
And in the future never to ... Be sorry for myself ...
Give me the restful sleep I need ... Before another dawn ...
And bless me in the morning with ... The courage to go on.

Need For Pre-School Checkup Is Stressed

Your child's good health is of the utmost importance, not only to his sense of well-being, but also in order for him to be scholastically and socially adjusted in school. There are many things you as a parent can do to keep him in top notch physical condition. The most important, of course, is to see he has a thorough examination by an optometrist or ophthalmologist doctor and dentist. His ears, throat, sinuses, tonsils, heart and other organs should all be examined before school commences so that if any corrections are necessary, he won't miss school. The dentist will not only examine and correct any matters of decay or malocclusion, he will help explain to your child the importance of keeping his teeth clean and how to brush. One survey showed that 1/4 to 1/2 of the school population need visual correction. Don't wait until your child complains of his eyes before you have them checked. A child generally doesn't realize he is not seeing well. You can encourage him to wear his glasses, if that becomes a problem, by selecting frames to match yours or by pointing out that glasses are fashionable — even movie stars wear them. See that your child has shots for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough and polio. Booster shots are usually needed about every 2 years.

You can further help to safeguard your child's health by seeing that he follows a proper diet, gets plenty of rest, fresh air and exercise.

Now is a good time, for the whole family's safety, to clean out the medicine chest, too. Throw away unlabeled bottles, old drugs and prescriptions. The chest should include: absorbent cotton, bandage, gauze squares, adhesive tape, burn and bruise ointments, aspirin, baking soda, eyewash, cough remedy, thermometer, salve for temporary muscle aches, rubbing alcohol and calamine lotion. Anytime your child appears to be having trouble with his school work or classmates, consider his health and have it checked. He may be having trouble hearing or seeing, or he may be tired and not feeling up to par. Sometimes a child who seems to have a mental problem actually has a physical impairment.

Kiwanis Plans Fish Fry For Ladies Night

FERRIDAY, La. (Special) — The Ferriday Kiwanis Club made plans at its regular meeting Thursday night to have Ladies Night on August 29. The place has not been yet decided, but the meeting will be in the form of a fish fry. The Kiwanians viewed a film on the manufacture of medicines during the weekly program. The program was arranged by E. O. "Tom" Barnard.

Passman Cites Defense For States' Rights

With legislative decisions making the "Eisenhower so-called civil rights bill less uncivil," Louisiana Fifth District Congressman Otto E. Passman pointed to those actions and to the previous House defeat of the Administration-sponsored federal aid for schools proposal as the "major accomplishments toward the safeguarding of states' rights and the basic liberties of individuals in general" of the present Congressional session.

What he termed the "dangerous so-called civil rights" measure has been reduced to a voting rights bill and provision has been made for jury trials in all types of contempt cases resulting from alleged or real interference with legitimate voting rights.

Sees Budget Slash
Along with "these victories in the public interest," Representative Passman said the "next top accomplishment" of the first session of the 85th Congress will be the curtailment by $4 billion, or more, of appropriation requests in the Eisenhower record $72 billion budget.

These money cuts, he said, should "lay the groundwork for some substantial and prudent reductions" next year in the "tremendously burdensome" federal income tax rates.

Of the total of appropriation reductions for the federal fiscal year which began July 1, possibly a billion, maybe more, will be in the new money made available for the foreign aid program, for which the original Presidential budget request was $4.4 billion.

Substantial Amount
Congressman Passman, chairman of the House Appropriations subcommittee which handles the foreign aid money bill, has given public notice on several occasions that a "substantial reduction" of the appropriation is in prospect.

This bill will be brought to the House floor as soon as possible after a House-Senate conference report on the authorization measure has been acted upon, Representative Passman said.

Brimming with enthusiasm after a summer of camping, Camp Fire Girls are ready to take on an important new project — co-operation with President Eisenhower's "People-to-People Program."

Camp Fire Girls three age groups — Blue Birds (seven to ten); Camp Fire Girls (ten to fifteen); and Horizon Clubs (senior high school) — will earnestly help to achieve better understanding among the peoples of the world. This is the major goal of the President's "People-to-People Program."

Taking a tip from that venerable sage, Confucius, who said that a picture is worth 1000 words, Camp Fire Girls will become "shutterbugs" in order to tell the world the true story of America. American community life will be presented to other peoples of the world through snapshots which the girls will take. "This," Camp Fire Girls will say to the viewers, near or far, "is our home. This is how we live. These are my people."

Area Man Commissioned Army Officer

Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md. Robert J. Pardue, son of Mr. Louie E. Pardue, Rt. 1, Farmville, La., recently received a commission of 1st lieutenant in the U. S. Army. He was presented with his silver bars by Colonel Thomas C. Compton, commander of the U. S. Army Ordnance School, Aberdeen Proving Ground Md.

Li. Pardue has been in the army for over 11 years and prior to his recent commission was a sergeant first class. He applied for and received his new rank because of his critical military occupational specialty, explosive ordnance disposal.

Li. Pardue and his wife, Iris, reside at 18 Taft St., Aberdeen, Md. He will shortly report to the 37th Ordnance Det. (EOD), Fort Myer, Va., for assignment.

Many a woman will be stumbling onto the name of Modigliani when she does her fall and winter clothes shopping. Modigliani was the Italian artist who in the 1920's painted all those pear-shaped ladies, and the same silhouette shows in the new clothes. Some designers call the silhouette the pear-oval; others refer to it as the tear-drop or the globe.

To prevent mildew in clothes stored for the summer, make sure the air in the closet is dry. Open the door occasionally, turn an electric fan into the closet frequently. Or burn a small electric light in the closet.

Local Lions To Help Move Nutria Becoming Pest In S. La.

Resident members of the Lion's clubs of the Monroe area will have an opportunity soon to help a little girl in taking her pony along to her new home at Fort Bliss, Texas.

Danilea Diette was presented the pony "Reindeer," last March when a television program learned of the accident which resulted in the loss of her right eye and impairment of vision in her left eye.

Her father, Daniel Diette, a sergeant first class in the Army, is being transferred from Frederick, Md., to Fort Bliss, and it was considered financially impossible to take "Reindeer" along.

The little girl's disappointment at not being able to take her pony to her new home came to the attention of the Frederick Lions Club who then originated the idea of "The Lions Club Pony Express."

Forty-nine Lions clubs have been requested to participate in this project. Eleven clubs will see that the pony is fed and watered in the evening, stabled overnight or kept in the trailer in a sheltered place, and fed and watered again in the morning.

The Frederick Lions Club is planning to procure a trailer, complete with an auto hitch that will fit any car. Hay and feed will be placed in the trailer with instructions for feeding and a chart to be signed by the clubs performing these functions. A large sign on the sides of the trailer will give the names of all participating Lions Clubs, and the mileage traveled will be inserted when the pony is delivered to the next club. Both the trailer and the pony will be insured.

Route Laid Out
The following route has been laid out. The trip will begin at Frederick, and go through Virginia, Tennessee, Alabama and into Mississippi for one of its overnight stops in Vicksburg before entering Louisiana. They will stop at Delhi, Monroe, Ruston, Minden and continuing into Texas for the final stop at El Paso.

As soon as confirmations from all clubs have been received, a definite schedule will be arranged, and each club will be notified when the pony will arrive in the cities.

The trip is slated to begin during the first week in September.

Crossett Mill Workers Given Merit Award

CROSSETT, Ark., (Special) — Employees of Crossett Paper Mills have just been awarded another honor for outstanding achievement in safety.

The American Paper and Pulp Association has just announced that an Award of Merit has been presented to Crossett Paper Mills' 1,000 employees for maintaining an accident frequency rate in 1956 below the national average. During 1956, Crossett Paper Mills employees established a rate of 4.34 disabling injuries per 1 million man hours worked or less than half the 9.1 national average.

Steadily improving its record from 17.1 in 1950, the paper and pulp industry has cut its disabling injury rate almost in half. The rate for this industry is below the average of 11.9 for all manufacturing industries in the nation.

India exported 344,400 tons of salt in 1956, a 25 per cent boost over the year before. Japan bought virtually all of the salt, with small amounts going to Indonesia, Nepal and Malaya.

BATON ROUGE (Special) — Louisiana's Commissioner of Agriculture, Sidney J. McCrory has declared that the fur-bearing nutria is becoming a pest in certain areas of the state.

He recently completed a tour of the southwest portion of the state and came away with the information that landowners are seriously concerned with the problem created by the damage nutria are causing.

In Iberia and St. Mary parishes alone, it was reported that several hundred acres of sugar cane have been destroyed by this rat-like animal which used its powerful front teeth to cut the cane about a foot from the ground, moving on to destroy other stalks.

The animal does not confine its depredations to sugar cane or any other one crop. It is a voracious eater, specialists have warned. Most of the damage done by nutria occurs between midnight and daybreak. McCrory stated that one cane field consisting of 20 acres was destroyed in a period of 36 hours. He added that heavy loss also has been recorded in the rice fields. This is caused by the nutria burrowing into the levees of the fields causing breakage and loss of irrigation water.

Trappers have discovered that the large size of the animal, some of which will weigh as much as 35 pounds, hinders them in handling a large number in small pirogues. The nutria also is a tough animal which makes skinning at the point of capture in the marsh habitats impractical.

Accompanying McCrory on his tour of the southwest portion of the state were E. A. Epps, state chemist; E. R. Stamper, associate plant pathologist for the LSU experiment station, and Lloyd Lauden, field representative of the American Sugar Cane League.

This animal was introduced into the United States about 1936 for the purpose of producing fur. Eleven nutria were brought in at the time, but now the number has risen to more than 11 million.

Authorities say that the value of the nutria as a fur producer has proven to be low as the pelt brings little on the market compared with the effort involved in its taking.

new problems he will face and what you can do to help him solve them.

Most educators and psychologists feel that one of the high school freshman's biggest problems is lack of privacy.

During his early teens, as parents know, the teen ager is extra-sensitive and a little moody. He wants a chance to think things out for himself. He wants to get away from other people at times and enjoy his own radio and TV selections. He wants a place to entertain his friends, to unleash his vivid imagination, even to do his homework. He wants privacy.

Your best solution to this problem is to give him some part of the home for his own personal use—a room of his own, if possible. If he has to share a room, let him know exactly which parts of the room and furniture are his. Let him be responsible for the care and cleaning of this section.

The experts also suggest you let him have a hand in decorating and furnishing his part of the room.

Furniture for a teen - ager's room can be very simple. Many teen - agers like to buy unpainted furniture and paint it themselves in their choice of colors. A divan - type bed with a dark spread will give your teen - ager a place to lounge during the day. Help him select a desk or a sturdy table and chair of the proper height for his study area. A good desk lamp and a portable typewriter will improve his grades. For books and hobby collections, simple open bookshelves are the favorite.

Teen - agers have many new problems to face, many of which are unexpected and unpredictable. Most educators and psychologists feel that a good study area, properly furnished, with privacy and comfort can do a lot to help him.

SOME-THING MOON-LIGHT AND ROSES
By Howard Afton

All the poets, at least many of them, have composed sentimental verses about moonlight and roses and the age old emotion that we call love. Under the spell of the moon a man and woman speak tender words to each other and Dan Cupid, close at hand, does the rest.

This is as it should be. This is the prelude to a happy wedding, the time when two people plight their troth and begin a life that should mellow into years of understanding and companionship.

If you are a prospective bridegroom, your first thought should be about the purchase of a lovely diamond engagement ring. It can be one that costs as little as $75.00 or it can be as expensive as you wish it to be.

One thing you don't need to worry about, Dear Sir. That is how you are going to pay for that exquisite diamond engagement ring. With a small sum paid down here at our store—or perhaps no down payment at all—you can choose the sparkling diamond that will make her happiest. And then, in small monthly payments, you can take care of the balance over two full years.

See our fine display of diamond engagement rings today. And remember, we are genuinely anxious to help you get the one you want. HOWARD BROS. JEWELERS, 116 DeSiard, Monroe, La.

Library Lists 6,000 Books Checked Out

LAKE PROVIDENCE (Special) — More than 6,000 books were checked out from the East Carroll Parish Library during the month of July, states Miss Elizabeth Cammack, librarian. This sets a new record for home use of books.

The previous high was a total of 5,804 during the month of March, 1956, but July's figure ran to 6,045. Bookmobile patrons took home for reading 3,347 books. Lake Providence patrons 2,327 and the Carver branch, 371.

Due to the growth in the use of the Bookmobile, Miss Cammack stated that it had become necessary to schedule an additional trip and to reroute the truck through the Elmwood, Monticello and Transylvania communities. Seven bi-weekly trips are presently being made over the parish, three one week and four the next. Books are issued at 208 stops and about 1,100 miles are traveled each month to bring up to date literature to the people of the parish.

Miss Cammack said that the Lake Providence Branch and office had been renovated so that eight new sections of shelves could be added, which will hold about 1200 additional books and help to alleviate the crowded condition that had existed.

As the home use of books from the library has grown, so has the use of their reference and specialized material. Included in these are such things as highly technical books for a Bookmobile patron on soils and organic chemistry, books on antiquities and refishing furniture, boat building, electric wiring and electric motors, showers for brides and babies, wedding etiquette for the family of the groom, Bible commentaries and politics in Louisiana during the period of Huey P. Long.

The books in great demand during the past month, the librarian said, are "Compulsion" by Levin; "Blue Camellia" by Keyes; "The Day Christ Died," by Bishop; "Scapegoat" by DuMaurier, and "Anne Boleyn" by Anthony.

English Planes Come To Support Of Ground Troops

BAHREIN, Persian Gulf, Aug. 10 (UP)—RAF bombers and jet fighters rained fragmentation bombs, cannon fire and rockets on surprisingly strong rebel forces today to break life into a stalled British ground offensive in this desert Arabian Sultanate.

Newspapers in London gave headlines to the fact that a force of 200 of the Imam of Oman's rebels stopped a 700-man British force dead in its drive on the Imam's headquarters at Nizwa. Two Shackleton four-engine bombers and two Venom jets spattered explosives on rebel caves and "well prepared positions" in the spurs and crags running from the town of Firz to Nizwa.

Air Vice Marshal Sir Laurence Sinclair, overall commander of the combined forces of the British and the Sultan of Muscat and Oman, said the rebels were putting up "organized resistance." He conferred with field com-

House Group To Study Problems Of Oil Industry

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (UP)—A House small business subcommittee, reporting "many indications of basic instability in the entire petroleum industry," proposes to study the oil supply and demand problems next year.

The subcommittee said in an interim report this week it has reached some conclusions about oil.

Many complaints are symptoms of more basic causes that possibly arise from a current overabundance of oil," the report said. The subcommittee said it plans to conduct no further oil investigations this year and expressed hope the industry would consider carefully recommendations made in its report.

The subcommittee, headed by Rep. Roosevelt (D-Calif.), conducted hearings this year in various parts of the country on practices of distributors, jobbers and retailers, including automobile tires, tubes, batteries and accessories. It reported a need for speedier government action against unfair distribution practices recommending a congressional study of means of stepping up procedures of the federal trade commission.

Rep. James A. R. Robertson and announced all ground forces were sitting tight while the RAF continued to soften up the rebels.

Audiologist Joins Health Department

NEW ORLEANS, (Special) — Clifton F. Lawrence, administrative audiologist, has joined the Section of Dental and School Health of the Louisiana state health department, it was announced this week by Dr. Paul C. Cook, section chief.

His appointment is part of the expanded statewide conservation of hearing program which has been in effect for the past three years.

The audiologist will work out of the Training Center office in New Orleans, in conjunction with Miss Caro Lane, the Health Department's school hearing consultant.

Hoover Enjoys 83rd Birthday With Luncheon

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10 (UP)—A five-foot long cake modeled after the liner President Hoover and singing of "Happy Birthday" by musical star Anne Rogers today featured a sumptuous luncheon honoring former President Herbert Hoover on his 83rd birthday.

Approximately 150 persons, including four generations of the Hoover family, attended the party aboard the American resident Lines ship named for the 31st President.

Hosts were APL Chairman Ralph K. Davies and president George Killian.

Following photographs of the four generations—Hoover, a son, two grandchildren and three great-grandchildren—the birthday party got underway on the promenade deck with a toast to Hoover by Davies.

Miss Rogers, who sings the lead in the musical "My Fair Lady" playing here, sang one chorus of "Happy Birthday" and the assemblage of kin, old friends and civic dignitaries joined in on the second.

Next, waiters brought in the cake modeled after the ship which had a lighted candle in its single stack. Hoover made the first slice and the waiters took over from there.

HOUSING SHORTAGE

PARIS, Aug. 10 (UP)—France's housing shortage forces 23 per cent of young newlyweds to live with in-laws and another 12 per cent to stay in hotels or shared apartments, the government reported yesterday.

The National Institute of Statistics said 80 per cent of the country's young married couples considered themselves badly housed and 60 per cent of those residing with relatives would like to live elsewhere.

YMCA Plans To Continue Swim Classes

Haywood B. Miles, chairman of the Twin Cities YMCA Youth Committee, announces that in response to many requests from parents that the YMCA will continue its swimming classes for beginners and advanced swimmers until the swimming pool closes on Labor Day September 2, 1957. The YMCA has conducted swim classes all summer within the framework of the Day Camp program. These classes will be a continuation of that instruction based on the National YMCA Aquatic Program. Both boys and girls are eligible to participate in these comprehensive instructional classes which will be supervised by Mrs. Mary Webster, who was Aquatic Director in the YMCA-YWCA Day Camp.

Instructors who will assist Mrs. Webster are Frank Webb, Gary Futch, Deuel Smith, Charlotte Bruscato, Judy Lane and Gay Demmay, all of whom taught swimming for the "Y" during Day Camp.

Classes Start Aug. 13. Classes will begin Tuesday August 13, 1957, and will be held Tuesday-Friday of each week in Swayze natatorium. The beginners class will meet Tuesday and Thursday from 9:30 - 10:30 a.m. The advanced swimmers will meet Wednesday and Friday also from 9:30 - 10:30 a.m. No fees are charged, however each participant is required to be a youth member of the YMCA.

Swimmers already registered as beginners are: Bill Caverlee, Ricky Fisher, Kathy Smith, Jim Norris, Johnny Massey, Elvas Goolsby, Carol Madden, Conrad Madden, Bill Edmondson, Mike Mullens, Nancy Hammonds, Mike Campbell, and Buddy Dent, Pham-ie Cowin, Jean Colvin, Andy Colvin and Ann Murphy. Advanced: Mike Strausser, Chuc Smith, Mac Brown, Arden Anders, Relt Porter, Edmund Brown, Vicky MacKay, Ewing Brown, Jimmy Harmon, Steve Gross, Mary Lou Myatt, Larry Mullens, Mike Stoddard and Larry White.

Space is limited and interested parents are urged to register their children immediately. For registration and further information call the YMCA FA 5-2353. The Twin Cities YMCA is a participating member of the United Giving Fund of Ouachita Parish.

Search For Bodies Of Two Drowning Victims Fruitless

FERRIDAY, (Special) —Dredging operators were called off late yesterday afternoon in the search for the bodies of two drowning victims, Mrs. Edna Shorts, about 25, and her daughter, Tommie, 5, who drowned Friday. It is believed that the bodies have washed far down the river.

"BIG MONSTERS" is what these knitted bulky wool cardigans are called. Warmth without weight and a casual, loose fit give them a just right look for campus honors. In white with red trim, and other popular combos.

Two Negroes Charged With Robbery Here

Two Monroe Negroes were taken into custody by the Ouachita Parish Sheriff's Department early Saturday, on charges of robbery, according to Sheriff Bailey Grant. In the parish jail, without bond set as yet, are Samuel Starks, 23, of 305 Foust Lawn avenue, and Jack Modene, 22, also of Foust Lawn avenue. The two men allegedly robbed Bonnie Anderson, Negro, 3005 Jackson street, of his billfold which contained $5 shortly after midnight Saturday. Outside Of Club Anderson told officers that he was outside Club 15 when the two grabbed him and took the billfold. They were taken into custody at their homes. A 14-year-old Negro boy was with the men, but did not take part in the holdup. Two other men were arrested for carrying concealed weapons. Monroe Negroes Roosevelt Jackson, 25, and Mose Slacks, 21, are in the parish jail, with bond set at $500 each.

TRIM TOPPING for the fall's tweedy look is this shiny-textured telescope hat. A colorful woven band sparks this slim-brimmed casual for high-schooler or collegiate.

Leather Wearables For All Occasions Can Really Take It

Most mothers, when buying back-to-school garb for little Jimmy and Janie, keep one thought uppermost — "the clothes must be able to take it." This is just one of the many reasons why leather plays such an important part in the wardrobes of today's student. Jackets, coats, briefcases, hats and even leathersens leather pants) are making a strong front in the back-to-school fashion department, for boys and girls alike. For boys, the western jackets soft leathers — trimmed with fringe in true Navajo style, and the husky bomber and surcoat versions in smooth or grained-surface are leading favorites. For girls the selection is more varied and includes Norfolk, boxy, mandarin, cocoon and Eisenhower styles. These appear in a range of colors from new "hot" oriental oranges and reds to pastel tints. Whatever style or color of these leathers, they require little upkeep. Many suede leathers today are machine as well as hand-washable. Check instructions. And, of course, most leather garments can be dry-cleaned. The first Ph.D. degree presented in the United States was at Yale in 1861.

joint state-federal committee was instructed to draw up memoranda designed to implement the tentative agreement. These staff papers will be discussed at the next meeting, not yet set.

Anderson said the six governors who attended also took a position against federal aid for school construction, except for that now provided for impacted areas.

Anderson said the joint committee hopes to submit by Dec. 1 a preliminary report on exactly how the five programs can be shifted back to the states and the new tax revenues made available to them.

'Big Steel' Sees Rising Inflation

If profits are squeezed out by holding the price line despite wage increases, he said, the end result would be stagnation, the threat of great unemployment, and an eventual return to the price-wage inflationary spiral.

Substantial profits are essential, he said, to permit heavy investments in modernization which in turn brings greater efficiency and lower costs. Without a promise of profits, he said, a company cannot raise capital by borrowing or stock sales.

The hearings will be resumed Monday.

Tyson said U. S. Steel Corp. costs per man-hour in 1956 were 284 per cent greater than in 1940, but prices of finished steel mill products were only 138 per cent higher.

Believe Atom

This doctrine, enunciated by Secretary of State Dulles several years ago, left loopholes for limited action but has been regarded all over the world as meaning that if the Communists launched an aggressive operation anywhere the United States response might take the form of a strike directly at Moscow. That of course would mean all-out atomic conflict.

However, the massive retaliation policy was derived from the existence of an arsenal of atomic weapons of very great destructive capacity, capped by the hydrogen bomb. So long as thinking had to be conditioned by the existence of weapons of this type alone, it was believed that a nuclear war would be an all-out war and would be so costly as to be virtually unthinkable in any capital in the world.

Backwoods Godess Is Discovered

a country school, making straight A's, then vanished back in the forest. But Dorothy, it appeared today, will never get "lost."

Three weeks ago, Tom McKnight and Fletcher Davis, publisher and photographer for the weekly Moorsville Tribune, were beating the underbrush along the Oatawba River in search of a moonshine still they had been tipped was in the vicinity.

They came to a clearing and beheld a dream — a barefoot goddess drawing water from a well. McKnight, an old-time newspaperman, at first was not so impressed as his young-er, shutter-clicking photographer.

Best Damn Story

But after talking to her five minutes, McKnight said today "I told myself, you're going to get to write the best damn story you ever wrote."

Tom's story was about a girl with grace, beauty, poise and common sense — but a girl without a chance because she had little education, no money and no contact with the world.

Kays Gary, columnist for the Charlotte Observer, read the Tribune and recalled "and my hair started curling."

Gary spent the next eight days talking to Dorothy's parents, her former teacher, local officials, everyone connected with her. Mostly he talked to Dorothy.

"I knew something must be wrong somewhere," Gary said, "but there just wasn't. She really is a living fairy tale."

From Canada To Bahamas

Calls and letters started coming in from Canada to the Bahamas. A pizza pie distributor wanted to sign her up. A sweater manufacturer had a contract waiting. A baseball team wanted to hire her as "queen." McKnight and his wife spirited her off to their house. Then Gary brought Dorothy to Charlotte and had the Union National Bank make her legal guardian. Department stores outfitted her with clothes.

A Charlotte industrialist, who already has put three girls through school, stepped into the picture.

No one except Gary knows the man's name, but Dorothy's high school and college education already have been paid for. Gary and his wife are selecting the school.

The bidding:
South, 1 spade; West, pass;
North, 2 spades; East, pass.
South, 4 spades; West, pass;
North, pass; East, pass.
Opening lead: Seven of spades.
Declarers had a choice of several plays to bring in today's contract in a recent tournament. The contract of four spades was uniformly reached, and the holding did not allow any variations in the bidding.

In each case West opened a trump, and the various declarers chose several lines of play. South observed that he had two plays for his contract, (a) the favorable location of the ace of clubs, and (b) the heart finesse.

Accordingly, a second trump was played to dummy and a low club led to the king. This went to West's ace, and a club came back to East's queen. East returned the ten of hearts, and declarer could find no way to avoid the loss of two tricks in that suit.

One declarer chose a different line of attack. Upon winning the opening lead, he decided that he could win the hand if West could be found with the queen of clubs. He therefore led low towards the jack. If West held the queen he would have to go up, and the jack would then force out the ace, providing declarer with a discard of a heart out of dummy on South's king.

If the jack should lose to the queen and East should return anything but a heart, declarer has the chance to find the ace of clubs right. If East returns a low heart, declarer can duck and still retain his two chances. And, as a last resort, the heart finesse is available.

Only one declarer found the play which wins the hand. If West held four diamonds, the contract was assured regardless of the location of the high cards. On winning the opening lead, he cashed ace and king of diamonds and ruffed a diamond high.

He then crossed to dummy with a spade, exhausting trumps in the process. Then came dummy's last diamond, and when East showed out, declarer simply discarded a low heart and West was in with no safe exit.

Masonic lodges, like all else here, seem to be on the verge of expansion, not just now but in time to come, perhaps not too far off. This will explain the purchase by the Masonic lodges of two valuable sites here, one in the 300 block of College avenue, the other on Stubbs avenue at 11th street.

From a man well versed in Masonry we learn that in a few years the site of the downtown Masonic temple may be required for industrial purposes. At present two Masonic lodges use it. They are Western Star No. 24 and Graham Surghor No. 333.

More lodges it is said are likely to be formed and far more space required than can be obtained in the present building. That is why Masons look forward to see possible erection of two Masonic temples in Monroe. It is believed that the two sites just purchased will care for needs for years to come.

The R. C. Pittards of West Monroe have two projects to care for by day. Mrs. Pittard is a teacher in Millsaps school, her better half is a time keeper at the big paper mill of Olin Mathieson company. When their days end they are back home gardening with all their intensity. Flower gardening pays, too, for they specialize in Day Lilies and have been given much recognition for their skill; but a new flower of their origin "Blue Shadow" has outclassed all of its previous claimants for recognition. It is the Pittard's family joy, originated by them. It won a Junior Citation of the National Heterocallis Society recently. It is said to be nearest a blue color than has ever been reached by any rival. The Pittards admit they have originated several thousands and have registered about a dozen with the national society but this "Blue Shadow" has all beaten. They are as proud of it as if it were a real precious child.

Over in Wharton, Tex., lives Rae F. Rinehart, who for years was employed by the Monroe Post office. Now he is retired and lives in the town named. One of his hobbies is sending Texas state maps to all his friends each year. We acknowledge the receipt of one again this year. It is a kindly gesture on his part.

In a letter just received he tells of a surprise birthday party given him at a popular cafe in Wharton. It was greatly enjoyed, he writes.

Bermuda's Government Aquarium has a collection of tropical fish ranging from the tiny goby (less than one inch in length) to a 10-foot shark.

WOMAN INJURED

A woman suffered minor injuries at 9:55 yesterday morning when she was struck by a car in front of 2411 DeSiard street.

Sadie Williams, 66, Negro, of 212 Short 12 street, walked from behind parked cars into the path of a car driven by Benjamin Siggall, Jr., 26, Negro of 3415 Halsell street.

The woman's glasses were broken, and she suffered a cut on the right forefinger and a bruised left wrist. She was taken to Conway Memorial hospital by Mulhearn ambulance.

NEGRO ARRESTED

Monroe police apprehended a 20-year-old Negro at noon yesterday, on a charge of felony theft.

Transferred to the Ouachita parish jail was Henry Piper, of 1600 Rogers, who was taken into custody in the 1200 block of Powell avenue.

Piper was charged with theft of $33 from a service station at 1200 Powell yesterday morning. James Ausberry, manager and owner of the station, told police that Piper has taken the money from him.

Two men sentenced to terms in the Louisiana State Penitentiary in Fourth District Court Friday were taken to Angola yesterday by Deputy Sheriff W. C. Causey, according to Sheriff Bailey Grant.

Dewey Smith, Negro, 60, was sentenced to 15 months for theft, and Richard H. Harshman, 29, will serve one year for theft by check.

Fashions For School Belle Treat Young Miss To Parisian Looks

Softness, the key of the 1957 fall silhouette, has opened designers' doors to exciting style variations adapting fashions from Victorian days through the era of the Gibson Girl, circling the globe and making the important stop, Paris at Chanel's designing board! Two different and distinctly delightful interpretations let the back-to-school girl choose her type: the nautical middy in dozens of variations is riding at high tide again thanks to Chanel; while cameo fashions with lantern sleeves, tucked bodices, fluted trimmings, and wide bands of embroidery or heavy lace on the sleeve are appealing to every age.

Soft Fabrics Lead
Fabrics that lend to the supple silhouette will be strongest this year. Jersey — in Acrilan, Orlon and wool combinations — expands from grown-up fashions into the youthful lines.

Easy cotton and woolen knits branch out from sweaters and blouses into some of the most fashionable one- and two-piece dresses in the Chanel - influenced lines.

Synthetic and blended fabrics that look like wool but act like easily - cared - for cottons will alternate with stunning natural wools in both two - piece and jacket dresses.

Color Calendar
Black: at least one black item forecast for every sub-teen wardrobe—

Navy blue: part of Chanel's whole nautical theme—

Autumn blues: cue taken from deep hues of Madras plaids—

Red: in Jersey and plaid as a vital color for teen fashions—

Brown: warm tones often sparked with color, combined with blue

Neutral tones: Beiges and grays in most lines for all occasions—

Fall green: Loden in ivy sports separates; sage for skirt and sweater coordinates—

White: a surprise color for fall that's part of the whole Chanel craze—

Car coats are riding 'high, wide and handsome' for fall. Tops up or down, the hood is important for framing the face or, as a collar, an effective trim.

US Wightman Cup Players Take Opening Day Matches

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 10 (UP)—An over-powering and more experienced United States team rolled to a clean sweep in three opening day matches of the Wightman Cup competition today on the strength of singles victories by Althea Gibson and Dorothy Head Knodel and a double triumph by Gibson and Darlene Hard.

Royal Beacon Wins Atlantic City Handicap

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 10 (UP)—Royal Beacon 2nd won the $100,000 Atlantic City Handicap today when the favorite, Dedicate, was disqualified for interference after setting a track record.

Dedicate, owned by Mrs. Jan Burke of New York and Miami Fla., and ridden by Eddie Arcaro, finished three lengths ahead of Royal Beacon 2nd, but interference was ruled by the stewards after a 20-minute conference.

Leon and William Santore's Halfast was awarded second place and Third Brother, owned by C. T. Chenery, was moved up to third spot.

Dedicate ran the mile and three sixteenths in 1:34 4-6 to overshadow the old track record of 1:57 3-5 set in 1946 by Turbine.

Track stewards said they would meet with state racing commissioners Monday to determine if Dedicate's time should be certified and if any action should be taken against Arcaro.

Royal Beacon 2nd, ridden by Walter Blum and owned by Sylvester Rich, of Pittsburgh, paid $60.60 $23.80 and $17.20. Halfast, ridden by Howard Grant, paid $16.20 and $12.60, while Third Brother, ridden by John Choquette, paid $8.80.

The victory was worth $85,000 for Royal Beacon 2nd, with $20,000 to Halfast, and $10,000 to Third Brother.

TITLE BOUT REFEE
TACOMA, Wash., Aug. 10 (UP)—The Washington State Athletic Commission said today it had chosen Tommy Loughran, former light heavyweight champion, to referee the Floyd Patterson-Pete Rademacher title bout in Seattle Aug. 22. Loughran will be the only official for the bout. The commission last week waived the use of two judges at the request of Gus D. Amato, Patterson's manager.

In winning the 1957 Hollywood Gold Cup, Round Table ran the mile and a quarter in 1:58 3-5 to equal the track record held by Swaps.

Wightman title and leave them with an all-time 29-4 bulge over the Britons. The British haven't won since 1930.

Gibson, 29-year-old Wimbledon titlist from New York, got the ball rolling in the U. S. favor by snapping out of an early tenseness to defeat the British ace, Shirley Bloomer, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2. But for a while there were some anxious moments as her service was faulty at times and she appeared to encounter trouble holding her racket.

Twice she double faulted on service and on three other occasions blew what looked like easy returns when her racket twisted. But undismayed, Althea finished strong in the deciding set by posting three love games over the 22-year-old British blonde.

It was a changed Gibson who paired up later with Miss Hard to display the skill that won them the Wimbledon doubles crown this year. The two were like a team of human pile drivers as they slugged away at Miss Bloomer and another British teenager, 18-year-old Sheila Armstrong.

The most blistering set of the day was the second between Mrs. Knodel and 16-year-old Christine Truman. After reeling off a first set victory of 6-2 with relative ease, Doty ran into stiff competition from her teen-aged rival that dragged through 20 games and an hour's playing time.

When play resumes tomorrow, the weight of keeping the British in competition will fall on the shoulders of still another teen-aged member of their team.

Eighteen-year-old Ann Haydon will play Miss Hard in the first of three matches with Miss Knodel opposing Miss Bloomer in the second and Gibson meeting Miss Truman in the third.

Rossi Chosen As President Of Cage Loop

AKRON, Ohio, Aug. 10 (UP)—The National Industrial Basketball League today announced the appointment of Don A. Rossi, a Dallas, Tex., businessman, as league commissioner.

The announcement came from League President Lou Wilke. He said Rossi, as the league's first commissioner, would devote most of his time to expanding the 11-year-old league's operations.

Rossi, who served as Air Force chief of sports for four years, has officiated basketball and football games in the southwest and midwest for several seasons. He was a game official at the Cotton Bowl classic last winter.

Wilke said Rossi would "expand the league's midwest operation to eight teams and lay the groundwork for the establishment of NBL divisions in other parts of the nation."

Wilke said the growing stature of the league and its complicated operations made the appointment of a commissioner necessary.

Rossi, elected manager of the Pan-American Olympic basketball team in 1955, returned to Europe last year to conduct an officials' clinic for Armed Forces personnel.

WINS CHAMPIONSHIP
PEORIA, Ill., Aug. 10 (UP)—Fred Schenk of Newport Beach, Calif., captured the National Snipe Association championships today as California sailors won four of the top five positions. Schenk finished the 10-day regatta at Peoria Lake with 6,891 points to beat out Bob Huggins, Lake Merritt, Calif., who was second with 6,794.

Since 1950, when Michigan State became a member of the Western Conference, Spartan teams have won eight league titles and shared two others in the Big Ten.

DELHI PRACTICE STARTS AUG. 19

DELHI, La. (Special) — Coach Raymond R. Richards today reported that all candidates for the Delhi Bears have been notified to report for fall football training and receive equipment August 19.

Thirty-four high school and twenty-four junior high boys are taking their physicals this week in preparation for the beginning practice. The team's average weight this year will be much the same as last, and Coach Richards is very optimistic in his thinking that the Bruins will get a better than even break.

TEMPLE HOSPITALIZED

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Aug. 10 (UP)—Infielder Johnny Temple of the Cincinnati Redlegs was hospitalized today as the result of being struck on the head by a ball in last night's double-header victory over Chicago here. Temple was released from the hospital for further observation.

Working in cooperation with Ruston High School, which annually is a co-sponsor of the event, the local Lions club has been able to arrange three jamboree games, each to consist of two ten-minute halves. A full evening of grid entertainment is promised to all fans who attend. Coshatta's capable "Choctaws," under the leadership of Coach Gene Knecht, will engage Farmerville's grid machine, led by Coach Chiles Carpenter, in the curtain-raiser of the evening. The second game will see the charges of Coach Glenn Gossett of Homer pitted against the "Tigers" of Jonesboro - Hodge, under the tutelage of Coach Jimmy

Brodie 'Most Valuable' Of College Aces

CHICAGO, Aug. 10 (UP)—Stanford's John Brodie, co-captain and starting quarterback for the College All-Stars, today was named most valuable collegian in last night's football game with the New York Giants.

The All-Stars lost, 22-12, to the world champion Giants in the 24th grid spectacular at Soldier Field.

Brodie, a San Francisco 49'er draft pick, got 42 ballots from sportswriters for his passing show. Brodie completed eight passes for 94 yards.

Billy Ray Barnes, the half-back speedster from Wake Forest, placed second among writers with 32 votes. Barnes, who averaged 5.4 yards for each of his 11 carries, scored the collegians' only touchdown with a two-yard plunge in the first quarter.

Seven other All-Stars received mention in the balloting. They are Jim Brown, Syracuse halfback; Southern California's halfback, Jon Arnett; Mississippi's fullback Paige Coltrane, center Jim Matsko of Michigan State, fullback John Pardee of Texas A and M, Ohio State guard Jim Parker, and end Steve Junker from Xavier of Ohio.

SWOON'S SON FOLDS Long Shots Take Splits Of Meadowland Handicap

CHICAGO, Aug. 10 (UP)—King Bruce II, a 6-year-old English-bred horse, and Munchausen, a 14-1 shot, turned in upset victories today in the two divisions of the Meadowland Handicap at Washington Park.

Swoon's Son, a 3-5 favorite, stunned the crowd of 23,558 by running fifth to King Bruce II in the second division of the race.

Munchausen, owned by Rothmore farm, took the first division with a fine effort in the stretch to win by a neck.

The first division of the race grossed $27,862 and the second division grossed $27,362.

Swoon's Son, owned by E. Gay Drake, carried 130 pounds and suffered his third loss in eight starts this year, failing to add to his bank-roll of $685,530.

Seven on the all-time list of money winners.

King Bruce II, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Allie Reuben of Toledo, earned $15,837 in winning his first stake in this country. He returned $21.60, $10.80 and $5.40.

Ridden by Johnny Adams, King Bruce II ran the six furlongs in 1:11 1/5 and finished 1 1/2 lengths ahead of Festin while Greek Game finished third in the field of 10.

Munchausen, ridden by Larry Gilligan, remained third through most of the first division running and then put on a terrific burst of speed to edge out Royal Sting, ridden by Bill Hartack.

Hoop Band finished third. Munchausen toured the six furlongs in 1:11 4/5 and returned $30.00, $9.40 and $5.60.

Dogoon, who finished sixth in the field of 10, set the pace until midway down the stretch with Craigwood closest to him. Both faltered but Munchausen had trouble getting through until he finally found an opening and took the lead. Royal Sting, owned by Reverie Knoll farm, closed stoutly.

CHAMPIONSHIP MATCH Grappling Resumes Here As Curtis Meets Hurley

Ex-titleholder Jack Curtis gets another crack at the Louisiana heavyweight wrestling championship tomorrow night as grappling resumes at Kallo's Arena.

The championship match heads up a program also featuring a tag-team affair between a couple of clean-cut Mississippi boys, George Curtis of Vicksburg and Earl Guess of Jackson, and a pair of meanies, Jules LaRance and Charlie Harben.

Jules, that bald body from Canada, is making a repeat performance in Monroe, not, however, due to popular demand. He teamed up with Black Jack Dillon several weeks ago to fight to a draw with the Curtis boys. LaRance is a good wrestler as well as an unsupervised one and if his partner matches his ability, they'll be tough to beat.

Harben, as far as we know, is making his debut in the local arena. The Atlanta grappler's reputation as a bad one precedes him into town.

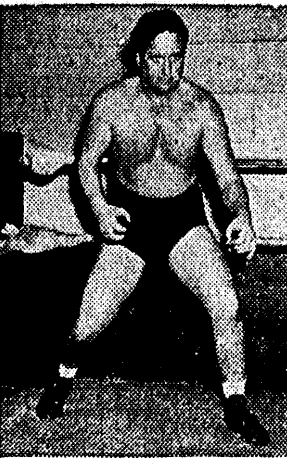

George and Earl are no strangers locally and are quite popular in Monroe. Both, Curtis especially, are good grapplers and never stoop to rough stuff unless provoked. They're likely to get provoked tomorrow night.

Australian Frank Hurley has had quite a few close shaves since winning his championship from Prince Emir back in May but he's still on the throne and intends to stay there. However, he may be ready for the plucking if he doesn't keep his civil nature under control. Big Frank has lost his last two matches here for kicking and stomping his opponents.

Jack Curtis is no man to get nasty with as Black Jack Dillon can witness. Probably the most popular wrestler in this area, Jack is a veteran gladiator with plenty of know-how. It should be an interesting bout.

Both of the night's matches will call for 2 falls to win and will have hour and 15 minute time limits.

Promoter Gus Kallo, stricken two weeks ago, is reported steadily improving and may be released from the hospital early this week.

SMITH IS GOAT Wild Throw In 9th Sends A's Past Indians, 8 To 5

CLEVELAND, Aug. 10 (UP)—Al Smith's wild throw in the ninth inning opened the gates for three runs today and enabled the Kansas City Athletics to defeat the Cleveland Indians, 8-5.

With two on and two out, Smith cut loose with his wild throw to second base on a grounder by Woody Held, and Bob Cerv and Hal Smith scored on the error.

An infield single by Hal Smith then drove in Held from third.

The losing pitcher was John Gray, who started the inning and gave way to Ray Narleski after Cerv singled and Martin walked.

RUPLE REPORTS: Neville Heads For Grid Camp Next Weekend

Coach Bill Ruple of Neville High School last night said football equipment will be issued Friday morning, they will pose for program pictures Friday, and then leave next Sunday morning at 8:30 o'clock for Kiwanis Camp on Caddo Lake near Mooringsport for their fall football encampment.

The Tigers plan workouts twice a day at camp for two weeks before making their initial public showing in the Bossier City jamboree August 30. They'll return home August 31 to make ready for the season opener here with the West Monroe Rebels at Neville Stadium on September 6.

Coach Ruple said only boys whose birth certificates are on file in the school office and those who have had medical examinations will be permitted to go to the grid camp.

Ruple's aides at camp will be assistant coaches Jim Coals, Gus Pelterson, and Charlie Brown, and student managers James McGough, Chuck Ruby, and John Joyce.

SALEM, N. H., Aug. 10 (UP)—Gerald Colella's Switch On, under a masterful ride by veteran Carrol Bierman, authored a spectacular drive through the stretch to win the $10,000 White Mountain Handicap today in a photo finish before a crowd of 19,875.

Carrying topweight of 121 pounds, the 2 to 1 favorite struck from fourth place at the top of the home lane, overhauled the leaders a sixteenth of a mile out and then had enough left to stave off Tournure by a nose.

Switch On paid $6.40, $4.40 and $3.40. Tournure returned $11 and $6.20 while Hare Raising paid $5 to show.

ROBINSON, CROWE HOMER Jeffcoat Pitches Reds Over Bruins

CINCINNATI, Aug. 10 (UP)—Sinkerball pitcher Hal Jeffcoat won a game for the first time in more than a month today when he held the Chicago Cubs to nine scattered hits as the Cincinnati Redlegs won, 7-2.

Frank Robinson and George Crowe each hit a home run to help ease the patch to Jeffcoat's ninth victory of the year. He had been knocked out of the box in six straight starts since winning his last previous game on July 3.

Robinson started the scoring when he hit his 20th home run in the first inning against starter Dave Hillman. A bunt single by Joe Taylor, walks to Gus Bell and Don Hoak, a force out and Alex Grammas' single produced two more turns in the second.

7-HITTER Drysdale Handicuffs Pirates For 3-0 Brooklyn Triumph

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 10 (UP)—Stylish Don Drysdale, serving up a puzzling assortment of fast balls and curves, handcuffed the Pittsburgh Pirates on seven hits today to pace the Brooklyn Dodgers to a 3-0 victory.

The cool right-hander pitched out of three jams to record the Dodgers' 14th shutout of the year, tops in the majors. He struck out nine and didn't allow a walk.

The long ball led to all the Dodger runs, despite the fact they were without the services of Carl Furillo, their hottest hitter, who was sidelined with a stiff right arm.

Brooklyn parlayed three hits for a 2-0 lead in the fourth. Duke Snider opened the frame with his 28th homerun of the season to right, Gil Hodges followed with a double and came home on Gino Cimoli's single two outs later.

BUMS' FURILLO SIDELINED
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 10 (UP)—The injury jinx continued to haunt the Brooklyn Dodgers today when Carl Furillo, their hardest hitter, was sidelined with a stiff right arm. Furillo, who had been hitting .447 for a nine game stretch, said his arm had been bothering him since June 17 when he was hit on the right elbow by Cincinnati's Brooks Lawrence. He had been playing off and on since that day but today the arm stiffened and prevented him from swinging a bat.

AT SWARTZ 3 Clubs Scrap For Little 8's Playoff Spots

The Little Eight Baseball League, its regular campaign over, sends three teams—Woodlawn, Claiborne, Downs-ville—to the Swartz diamond this afternoon to settle third and fourth places in the league standings and set the stage for the league playoffs, said last night.

Meanwhile, Liberty, which beat out Swartz in a battle for first and second places last Sunday, will be at home to West Monroe for a practice game this afternoon.

The double header at Swartz is due to send Woodlawn a gainst Downs-ville and then the latter against Claiborne. One will be eliminated from title contention in the four-club playoffs.

Cheek Accepts Line Coach Job At Bolton High

WINNSBORO, La. (Special) — Frank Cheek has inked a three year contract as line coach at Bolton High School in Alexandria. Cheek received his degree in physical education from Louisiana College at Pineville this spring. It was his aggressive playing from the left guard slot on the Winnsboro High School eleven that helped give the former Winnsboro backfield ace, Tommy Bankston, Steve Thompson and Eugene Southern, a chance to put the Winnsboro Wildcats in the headlines on the sport page.

Frank Robinson led the Cincinnati Redlegs in slugging with a .558 mark in 1956.

WILDCATS OPEN WORK THURSDAY

WINNSBORO, La. (Special) Coach Philip Poole has announced that football practice for his Winnsboro Wildcats will begin August 15. Uniforms will be issued at 8 a.m. The first action for the Wildcats will be at the Lake Providence Jamboree on August 30, and the first regular scheduled game will be with the Newellville Bears at Newellville on September 6.

The Winnsboro athletic department has purchased a camera and projector and pictures will be made of all games this year. Barney Cottingham, assistant principal, will be the official camera operator.

Whitney Race To Kingmaker To Pay $15.10

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 10 (AP)—Happy Hill farm's Kingmaker, under a cool ride by Bobby Lissery, swept to a spectacular triumph in the 30th running of the $45,000 Whitney Stakes before 21,963 here today. The cold, unhurried Early, made his run through the stretch and, responding willingly, came on to beat the Greentree stable's Riley by a neck at the end of a mile and a furlong.

Howell E. Jackson's Tick Tock was third, two lengths away, while Christiana stable's Ricci Tavi, the favorite, was fourth in the small field of a half dozen older horses. Foxcatcher farm's Chevaillon, a recent winner here, was fifth, and Peter A. Issaris' Greek Admiral, an arrival from New England, wound up last. Kingmaker, under 115 pounds, turned the nine furlongs on the "dull" track in 1:52 4-5. When Jan Burke's Dedicate won the Whitney in '56, he set the record for the distance, 1:49 4-5. Fifth choice in the betting, the 4-year-old son of Princequillo paid $15.10, $8.70 and $5.20. Riley, ridden by Ted Atkinson, paid $3.20 and $4.10. Tick Tock, with Angel Valenzuela up, paid $3.70.

Kingmaker is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Cortwright Wetherill of Pennsylvania. They are now in Europe. Wetherill's mother, Mrs. Hutchison Scott, accepted the trophy in his behalf. It was presented by John Hay Whitney, U. S. ambassador to England, and his cousin, Mrs. Samuel Peck.

Whitney flew in from Europe yesterday. The race was named for his grandfather, William Collins Whitney. Members of the Whitney family have won nine previous renewals of the race. Riley was the hopeful of Whitney today, missing only in the closing strides after moving to a good lead at the eighth pole. The Ambassador owns the Greentree stable in partnership with his sister, Mrs. Charles Shipman Payson.

BEARS GAIN TWO MEN RENSSELAER, Ind., Aug. 10 (UP)—Rookies Earl Leggett and Jack Johnson, fresh from rough competition as All-Stars last night, today joined the Chicago Bears' training camp in time for the afternoon practice session. Leggett, a tackle, was the Bears' top draft choice, while Johnson, who battles between halfback and end, was chosen fourth.

When Billy Hoelt bowed to the Yankees, 4-3 in 15 innings, he held Mickey Mantle hitless in six efforts. He fanned Mantle three times.

TIGHT FINISH—Kingmaker, Robert Ussery up, wins the Whitney Handicap at Saratoga, N.Y., yesterday. Riley, on rail, with Ted Atkinson was a close second. (A Wirephoto)

BASKETBALL COACH

Spaulding Joins Wildcats

PINEVILLE, La. (Special) — High recommendations from three of the foremost round ball "professors" in the nation are among the credentials that have won the vacant Louisiana College coaching job for Dayton M. Spaulding. Spaulding, who played college basketball at the University of Oklahoma, has been hired to succeed Morris Osburn as Wildcat cage mentor. Osburn has resigned to accept a teaching position at Francis Nicholls College in Thibodaux. J. W. Patrick, Louisiana College athletic director, announced the hiring of Spaulding, 35, today. Among the coaches who recommended Spaulding were Adolph Rupp, fabulous Kentucky coach; Clair Bee, formerly of Long Island University and Bruce Drake, Spaulding's coach at Oklahoma. The native New Yorker has a rich background in coaching, including both high school and college positions in the United States and foreign ports.

His most recent job has been with the U. S. State Department. For the past year he has served as a basketball specialist, teaching the game and coaching teams in Spain and Panama.

One of his earlier jobs, following his graduation from Oklahoma in 1949, was as athletic director and basketball coach at Santa Maria University in Puerto Rico. He also served as various times during his career as assistant cage coach at his alma mater, head coach at Cheshire (Conn.) Academy and Englewood (N.J.) School for Boys, and basketball lecturer at New York Military Academy in Cornwall, N.Y.

As a player, Spaulding was named to the New York state high school all-star team before attending Oklahoma. He played baseball as well as basketball at Stamford Central High in New York and Oklahoma.

Spaulding holds a master's degree from Syracuse University. Now visiting his father in Ocala, Fla., he will report here shortly, probably by Monday.

Spaulding is married but has no children. He is a member of the Methodist church and is active in church work. He inherits an all-veteran team from Osburn. Louisiana College will not lose a single basketball player from last year's squad through graduation.

Allen Fox Wins Jaycee Junior Tennis Tournery

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Aug. 10 (UP)—Allen Fox, of Beverly Hills, today won the title in the 4th Annual United States Junior Chamber of Commerce Junior and Boys tennis championships.

Fox, who was third-seeded, put down fourth-seeded Larry Nagler, of Roslyn Heights, N. Y., 6-3, 6-1, 6-4, for the junior division championship. Yesterday Fox defeated top-seeded James Shaffer, St. Petersburg, Fla., while Nagler whipped sixth-seeded Ray Senkowski, Hamtramck, Mich.

Paul Palmer, of Phoenix, Ariz., won the boys division singles title by defeating Robert Siska, of San Francisco, 8-6, 6-1.

In junior consolation finals, Bill Thompson, Oklahoma City, downed Webb Harrison, Princeton, N. J., 6-4, 6-4. Joe Gaston, Burlington, Iowa,

U S Track Aces Take 8 Of 10 In German Meet

KOBLENZ, Germany, Aug. 10 (UP)—American athletes won eight of ten events in an international track meet today, but the outstanding performance was the new European 100-yard dash record of 9.5 seconds by German sprinter Manfred Gernan.

Ed Collamore of the U.S. touring squad finished second in 9.6 seconds, which tied the old European record by McDonald Bailey. Collamore attends Villanova College.

Elias Gilbert of Winston-Salem Teachers won two events, the 110-meter hurdles in 13.7 and the 220-yard hurdles in 23.7. In the latter he barely edged his teammate Aubrey Lewis of Notre Dame, who was given the same time.

defeated John Hough, Lakewood, Colo., 6-1, 2-6, 8-6, in boys division consolation finals.

Players Ask Bell To Put Signature On Recognition

CHICAGO, Aug. 10 (UP)—Bert Bell, commissioner of the National Football League, revealed today that he has been asked to put in writing his verbal agreement to recognize the league's new player association. "I don't know why I have to sign an agreement," Bell said. "I've testified before Congress that I recognized the association. I'll consult with lawyers before I sign."

Bell formally recognized the player group at Washington Aug. 1 while the House subcommittee investigating the anti-trust status of professional sports was taking testimony from N.F.L. officials and players.

Don Kellett, general manager of the Baltimore Colts, first revealed the latest association move earlier today at the club's training camp in Westminster, Md. Kellett said Bell had informed him that Creighton Miller of Cleveland, attorney for the players, had asked that an agreement recognizing the association be signed by Aug. 18.

Bell, who was in Chicago for Friday night's All-Star football game, said Miller had withdrawn one association request that the league pay him (Miller) a $15,000 salary and $10,000 in expenses as attorney for the player group.

Most of the owners and other officials of the 12 NFL clubs backed Bell's action in recognizing the player association during the Washington hearings.

However, George Marshall, owner of the Washington Redskins, said he doubted that the commissioner had authority under the league constitution to recognize the player association.

George Halas, owner of the Bears, backed Bell with the qualification that each club have a representative in the association. The Bears currently have no representative.

TO GO INTO CHINA

Youths Announce Warnings Defied

MOSCOW, Aug. 10 (AP)—A group of young Americans, insisting they can hold their own against Communist ideas, said today they are defying U.S. warnings against going to Red China because their trip will benefit all Americans.

The trip, they said in a statement, is worth the risk of action the U.S. government could take against them. The State Department has told Americans to stay out of Red China.

The group was originally made up of about 40 U.S. participants in the Communist-sponsored World Youth Festival in Moscow. But some still were not definite to-night about making the three-week trip at the invitation of the Chinese Communist government.

'Positive Benefits'

The statement drawn up by 20 members of the group said the delegates had showed by the trip to Moscow that they had not lost their ability for clear thought.

"Apart from the special personal reasons each of us may have for going to China we believe that our visit will result in positive benefits to all citizens of the United States," the statement said. "We will give the Chinese a better view of the American way of life."

"We are agreed in our belief in the right of U.S. citizens to travel and affirm that our exercise of this right is consistent with our loyalty as Americans. We want to express and strengthen the traditional friendship which has existed in the past between the people of the United States and China. The festival in Moscow has shown that young Americans can hold their own and make independent judgments when confronted with traditions different from their own."

Four representatives of the group met today with U.S. Ambassador Lewellyn Thompson, who outlined the possible action the U.S. government could take against the group.

What Could Happen

Thompson told them these four things could happen:

1. Their passports might not be renewed when they expire.
2. At the very next opportunity, their passports might be stamped, "Valid only for return to the United States."
3. They could be fined as much as $5,000 each for misuse of a passport.
4. They could face charges under the Trading With the Enemy Act.

The group includes a lawyer, preacher, photographers, free lance writers, young businessmen and students. The Chinese government is paying the full expenses of 15 of them. The others have been asked to pay a $100 token fee plus their expenses inside China.

Changed His Mind

Seven of the eight members of the U.S. delegation committee to the Moscow Festival are going to China. One who had announced he was going, Walter Coppedge of Rosedale, Miss., has changed his mind. He is being replaced by Ginger Mattox of San Francisco.

The list of those planning to go changes constantly and the delegates who are absolutely certain they want to go are few.

Late today, however, these 17 delegates had signed the statement signifying they are going:

Joanne Grant, New York; Eugene Bronstein, Los Angeles; Jerry Fiedler, New York; Ben Daniel, Los Angeles; Sam Hochman, New York; Guy Carawan and his wife, Noel, Los Angeles;

Judy Collins, San Francisco; the Rev. Warren McKenna, Boston; Faye Goodman, New York; Fred Grab, Alexandria, Va.; Sandra Nicoli, Los Angeles; Peggy Seeger, Los Angeles; Earl Williamson, Berkeley, Calif.; Louis Alhonen, Brooklyn, N. Y.; William March, Chicago, and S. Tyler, no hometown available.

Jake Rosen of New York City and Harry Blockberg of Midvale, N.J., say they are going but have not signed the statement.

Dan O'Connell of Chicago says he is going but has declined to sign the statement on the grounds that the wordings incorrect and that the Moscow trip has not proven these American youths are able to think for themselves.

Coastal Island Site For Radiation Gage Of Animals

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 10 (UP)—A desolate coastal island of tide pools and scrubby trees will be the site of the first attempt to gauge radiation results on a natural population of mammals.

Working under an Atomic Energy Commission grant, Tulane University scientists have laid the groundwork for the island study designed to pinpoint the effects of radiation on people.

Dr. Norman C. Negus, assistant professor of zoology at the university, said today that he and his aides have just returned from their first "expedition" to Breton Island, where the experiments will be held.

Near New Orleans

Three miles long and half a mile wide, Breton Island is off the Louisiana coast in Breton Sound, 55 miles southeast of New Orleans.

The island is devoid of human residents but provides a thick population of other mammals.

Dr. Negus originated the "Dynamics of Mammal Populations" project, as it is officially called. It was accepted by the AEC, which granted $15,600 for the first year of what will be a long-term undertaking.

Study Mice, Rats

Breton Island's mammal population to be studied consists of two species: Rice rats and cotton rats. Both are small rodents, much like common rats, and, like mankind, belong to the highest class of vertebrates, the mammals.

As related problems develop, studies may be made among other residents of the island, Dr. Negus said. These include: The nutria, muskrats, raccoons and swarms of rabbits, the black colony of black-skimmers, and the shore birds that use the island as headquarters.

Negus said, to collect the basic facts needed to establish what is normal in the rat population with regard to population density, age groups and seasonal fluctuations, reproduction, size of litter, and length of life.

Arson Plane Burns Near Havana, Cuba

HAVANA, Cuba, Aug. 10 (AP)—A twin-engine Beechcraft, said by officials to have been engaged in setting fire to sugar cane fields to harass the government, crash-landed on a turnpike near Havana today and burst into flames. It was the second plane officially reported to have engaged in arsonist activities.

An army communiqué said the plane, sighted near Havana, was intercepted by the Cuban air force and ordered to land at the military field, Camp Columbia. The pilot refused and headed for a wide dual highway near Havana. He crashed upon landing and the plane caught fire.

The communiqué said the plane was loaded with phosphorus compounds to be used in burning up cane fields.

The communiqué also said the markings on the plane indicated it belonged to ex-President Carlos Prío Socarras, now an exile in Miami.

2 Personalities Added In Trial Of Confidential

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 10 (UP)—The defense in the trial of Confidential magazine today added two more Hollywood personalities to the list it has threatened to put on the witness stand to testify to "the truth" of scandal stories about celebrities.

Orchestra leader Charlie Barnett, who recently was shed by his ninth wife, and singer Herb Jeffries were subpoenaed on behalf of the defense for Confidential's alleged Hollywood researchers, private detective Fred Otash said.

18 More

Otash said about 18 more movie figures, including some of Hollywood's "biggest names," also would be subpoenaed, running the list to well over 100. Another recent addition was singer Dean Martin. Yesterday, actor Tab Hunter failed in a court attempt to escape the stand as had Rory Calhoun earlier.

The libel trial was in recess today until Monday morning when the prosecution will resume efforts to prove its contention here was malicious intent involved in the magazine stories.

Former Editor Testifies

Howard Rushmore, the former editor of Confidential, testified yesterday under prosecution questioning that he "certainly did" write smear stories to injure celebrities.

"I'm proud I wrote the Rory Calhoun story," he said, adding he also did stories on Marilyn Monroe, Van Johnson, Richard Carlson and John D. Rockefeller.

Outside the courtroom, defense counsel Arthur J. Crowley declared this testimony had "nothing to do" with the case concerning Fred and Marjorie Mende, who actually are on trial as operators of Hollywood Research Inc., alleged West Coast pipeline for the magazine. They are charged with conspiracy to commit criminal libel.

Special Session Possible In Ala. To Gerrymander

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Aug. 10 (AP)—An administration leader spoke today of the possibility of a special session of the Alabama Legislature to gerrymander other Negro-dominated counties.

Sen. Richmond Flowers of Houston County said the matter has been discussed with Gov. James E. Folsom, but no decision has been reached.

Flowers said he knows of no reason for an extraordinary session "unless maybe the Legislature wants to create a constitutional committee to consider gerrymandering some of the counties."

DEAD 22 YEARS

Recall Life Of Famed Comedian Will Rogers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (UP)—The man who earned fortune and fame poking fun at Congress will have been dead 22 years next Thursday.

On Aug. 15, 1935, Will Rogers, America's beloved cowboy philosopher, and famed filer Wiley Post died in a plane crash at Point Barrow, Alaska.

More than two decades have failed to dim memories of the Oklahoma cowpoke who got his first break in a Broadway show, working his lariat and cracking jokes about Congress on the side.

"If I needed any new jokes," he once remarked, "I'd get a late paper and read what Congress had done that day and the audience would die laughing."

Congress wasn't his only target. He opened a speech before the Staid International Bankers' Assn. convention with these words:

Addressed Bankers

"Loan sharks and interest pounds, I have addressed every form of organized graft in the United States except Congress. So it's naturally a pleasure for me to appear before the biggest... I see where your convention was opened with a prayer—and you had to send outside your ranks to get somebody who could pray. You have a wonderful organization. I understand you have 10,000 here and with what you have in the federal prisons, that brings your total membership up to around 30,000."

Behind many of his wisecracks was a solid, no-nonsense grasp of controversial issues. In 1927, 14 years before Pearl Harbor, he nations. It's so big that we'd rat-made this observation on air power:

"When we nearly lose the next war, as we probably will, we can lay it onto one thing and that 'ill be the jealousy of the Army and Navy toward aviation. They have belittled it since it started and will keep on doing it until they have something dropped on them from on."

Some other Rogers' comments on still-current issues:

Federal budget: "A mythical beanbag. Congress votes mythical beans into it and then tries to reach in and pull real beans out of it."

Veterans: "If they really wanted to honor the boys, why don't they let them sit in the stands and have the people march by."

Standard of living: "We sure are living high. Our children are delivered to schools in automobiles but whether that adds to their grades is doubtful. Rail splitting produced an immortal president in Abe Lincoln but golf on 29,000 courses hasn't produced even a good congressman."

View Communist

American Communists: It's just like the exhaust on an automobile. No matter how high you price the car, you have got to have an exit for the bad air and gases. They have got to come out. It don't do any particular harm unless you stand around smelling membership up to around 30,000."

PRINCIPAL SKILLS

LONDON, Aug. 10 (UP)—T.B. Rice listed the following skills which he said he needed in his first year as principal of an English country school:

"A sound knowledge of such arts as plumbing, rural drainage, electrical wiring and the local dialect, plus ability to scale ladders, retrieve balls from the school roof, dig long-jump pits, direct traffic and perform various other antics."

He around in it like an idea in Congress.

Communism: "A communist's whole life work is based on complaint of how everything is done. When they're running everything themselves, that takes away their chief industry. They have nobody to blame it on. Even if he's satisfied with it, he's miserable because he has nothing to complain about. Make one satisfied, and he's no longer a Communist."

Trains: "Garfield was assassinated waiting for a train... but he is not the first casualty as thousands have starved to death waiting for them."

Public Indifference: "Henry Ford is wrong when he says that 90 per cent of the people are satisfied. Ninety per cent of the people are not satisfied. It's just got so that 90 per cent of the people don't give a damn."

Dress Right Program Points Up Relationship Of Grooming, Behavior

Boys and girls who look better, act better, and they like to better their appearance if properly approached. That is the lesson of one full year's operation of the "Dress Right Program" in the Buffalo, N. Y. high schools.

Essence of "The Buffalo Plan" has been the adoption of a "Dress Right" code for the boys and girls of the high schools of that town by the Center-High School Student Council, the students' own organization.

This was done with the cooperation of the Assistant Superintendent.

ITALIAN-INSPIRED knitted pullover in style for easy comfort in Orton and wool. Hug sleeves, tailored collar and side slits give this vibrant-colored sweater elegance — whether worn tucked in or out of the slacks.

Aiding to spread this plan throughout the country has been the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear, an educational organization in the men's and boys' wear industry.

Behavior in the schools improved so much under this plan, principals, teachers, students and parents are convinced there is a strong relationship between appearance and behavior.

Here are the recommendations as adopted in Buffalo:

Recommended for Boys:

1. Dress shirt and tie or conservative sport shirt and tie with suit jacket, sport coat, or sweater.

2. Standard trousers or khakis; clean and neatly pressed.

3. Shoes, clean and polished; white bucks acceptable.

Not Recommended:

1. Dungarees or unpressed khakis.

2. T-shirts, sweat shirts.

3. Extreme styles of shoes, including hobnail or "motorcycle boots."

Note: The apparel recommended for boys should be worn in standard fashion with shirts tucked in and buttoned, and ties tied at the neck.

Recommended for Girls:

1. Blouses, sweaters, blouse or sweater, jacket with blouse or sweater.

2. Skirts, jumpers, suits or conservative dresses.

3. Shoes appropriate to the rest of the costume.

Not Recommended:

1. V-neck sweaters without blouse.

2. Bermuda shorts, kilts, party

MR. C. W. McNEELY, associate of Penney Co., is showing Sammy Bates, 210 Claiborne, West Monroe, Penney's Foremost Jeans in the popular faded blue color. Mr. McNeely points out that these jeans are now available in the hard to find slims and husky boy sizes.

type dresses, slacks of any kind.

3. Ornate jewelry.

4. T-shirts, sweat shirts.

Note: All recommended wear for girls should fit appropriately and modestly.

It was also noted that standard of dress for boys and girls, while in school shops or laboratories, should be determined by the school.

Bulletins on the recommendations, slogans on mirrors and assembly programs aided the students in carrying out the "Dress Right" operation.

It is generally felt that the program was successful because teenagers want to do right, but react better to a plan they initiate and carry out themselves with adults helping and encouraging.

Passengers aboard the original

Mayflower wore Harris tweed, according to documents accompanying a modern display of the famous hand-woven tweed which was part of the varied cargo of Traffic Safety Poster Contest Mayflower II.

The poster was designed by two 12-year-old boys who attended grade school at Kelly Field School in San Antonio, Texas, last semester.

The boys — John Mourer and Neal Patton — entered their posters in the AAA's National Traffic Safety Poster Contest.

REV. MARTIN

L. Providence Pastor Resigns After 8 Years

LAKE PROVIDENCE (Special) — Rev. C. A. Martin, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Lake Providence, for the past eight years, tendered his resignation, effective August 15.

Rev. Martin in making his announcement to the church stated that he and his family had become attached to Lake Providence and its people and "I fully decide to leave Lake Providence and its fine people was the hardest decision I have ever made."

The Martins will move to Jackson, Louisiana, where Rev. Martin has accepted the pastorate of a church.

He was born in Martinsville, Mississippi, and received his early schooling at New Light in Lincoln County. He received his ministerial education at Mississippi College, Clinton, where he served two churches while attending school, and was ordained at the First Baptist Church there in 1930.

In 1929 he was married to the former Miss Vera Allen of Brookhaven, Miss., and the couple have four children: Mrs. Theresa Martin Donaldson, of Baytown, Texas; Charles, David and Joe Martin.

Added parish reports 31 cases and led the parish of the state reporting one or more victims, East Baton Rouge had 14 and Orleans 11.

Ouachita parish had but one case to report, Union parish also had but one to report.

Rev. J. H. Harper Guest Speaker In Church Here

Today the guest speaker for the 11:00 o'clock worship service at the First Presbyterian Church will be Reverend John Harrell Harper, minister of the Trinity Presbyterian Church of Jackson, Mississippi.

Mr. Harper was born in McComb, Mississippi and attended Southwest Mississippi Junior College and later Louisiana State University where he received his B. D. degree. His seminary training was received at Louisville Presbyterian Theological Seminary in Louisville, Kentucky, and in 1942 he received his B. D. degree from that institution.

Mr. Harper has held pastorates in the Liberty and Hayti Memorial Presbyterian Churches in Mississippi and in Somerset and Georgetown, Kentucky, and during the war he served as chaplain in the United States Navy. He has been the minister of Trinity Presbyterian Church since 1952.

It is with a great deal of pleasure that members welcome this outstanding speaker today and members and their friends are urged to attend this service.

Good Fit Vital To Children's Foot Health

The approach of the new school term means new teachers, new books, and most important, new shoes.

This season's line of school shoes indicates a much stronger emphasis on foot health combined with smart practical styling.

Foot specialists recommend shoes with leather soles as well as leather uppers because they have minute pores through which perspiration can evaporate, keeping feet warmer in a cold temperature, cooler when it's hot.

This is especially important for children, as going from heated classrooms to play in the outdoors will breed winter-long sniffles if circulation in feet and hands is poor. Another good point about leather is that it contains no allergizing substances.

For proper fitting, have the child stand on each foot bearing his or her full weight upon it. Feel to see that there is plenty of room for all the toes and at least three-quarters of an inch between the longest toes and the tip of the shoe. Also check the width at the widest part of the shoe.

Check frequently to see that the shoes still fit. There is no set rule, of course, but on the average, children need shoes every two months up to the age of ten, after that every two or three months.

BLUE DENIMS GO "IVY"—here, handsome Ivy-styled slacks take on that keen look yet combine with blue denim's traditional tough, rugged wear and fabulous durability. Handsome team-mate for any striped Ivy shirt and cap!

MY ANSWER

By Billy Graham

QUESTION: My own health is poor, and now my aged sister has come to live with us. She has nowhere else to go, but I wonder how I can carry on another week. What should I do? M. J. K.

ANSWER: The Bible says: "As thy days so shall thy strength be." (Deuteronomy 33:25). You don't have to rely on your own strength alone. If you know it's your duty to care for your sister, don't be afraid to assume this added responsibility. When you are doing the Lord's work, He gives you a power beyond your own. You may get weary, but if you let Christ carry half the load you will not fail. Think of Jesus as always by your side. Share your burden with Him. Stop worrying for fear you can't carry on through next week. Do what you have to do today, and leave the future in God's hands.

As you wait upon your sister, put a little extra love into the things you do for her. This, like a spring tonic, will bring new life into your body as well as into your soul. Love has performed this miracle in every age. Christ told us that all we do for others we do for Him. Think of this, and as you care for your sister you'll get a double satisfaction. Don't be afraid your strength will fail. "Cast thy burden upon the Lord, and He shall sustain thee." (Psalm 55:22).

Rabbi Malev appointed Stanley Pearce of Dallas as convention chairman and announced that a Zionist leader, Mendel Fisher, executive director of the Jewish National Fund, would address the convention. Mr. Fisher will also chair a regional conference of more than 500 visitors and delegates are expected to flock to convention headquarters at the new Statler-Hilton Hotel in downtown Dallas for the Labor Day Week-end meeting. A series of workshops and round-table forums are scheduled and nationally known political figures are expected to take part in the discussions.

SCHOOL PROBLEMS

Citizens Committees Still 'Hard At Work'

By HENRY TOY, JR., President National Citizens Council for Better Schools

One of our American institutions, popcorn, got started with the slogan, "The more you eat, the more you want."

Another of our American institutions, our schools, might well have the slogan, "The more you do, the more there is to do."

Citizens' committees — some 15,000 of them all over the country — are proving this maxim daily. Eight years ago, there were a couple dozen committees working with their school boards and superintendents to see how citizens could help.

In those intervening years, citizens' committees that represent the whole community and are fact-finding — not fault-finding — have helped pass bond issues, kept the public informed about their local schools, done building surveys, helped attract and keep the best teachers in their classrooms.

The more these committees do, the more there is for them to do. For instance, when the building problem is temporarily licked, there's the problem of keeping the classrooms staffed. When one bond issue is passed, the community with a newfound interest in education takes more of a personal interest in what the new schools should accomplish.

In an age when school children have to learn more than any other generation, the problem becomes how to give these children a first-rate education.

Communities that have never called on the citizenry to help solve school problems are wasting good manpower. They ought to find out what others are doing elsewhere.

We have a booklet that shows what the school problems are and how the citizens can help solve them. The title of that booklet is also a challenge. It's called, "Let's Get Our Schools Ready Now!"

Approximately a million teachers handle about 25 million students in the United States on an average school year.

Rev. W. J. Rimes Receives His Doctor Degree

Rev. William J. Rimes, S. J., was among the twenty-one graduate students receiving his degree of Doctor of Philosophy, at the annual summer commencement exercises Friday at 8:00 p.m. in the Agriculture center of Louisiana State University, in Baton Rouge.

Reverend Rimes was born in Roosevelt, La., near Lake Providence, and was moved with the family a year later to Monroe, home of his family for generations. His grandmother's great-grandfather was Don Juan Filhiol, founder of Monroe.

Father William J. Rimes was ordained to the priesthood in 1949 at Springhill College, Alabama. He received his MA degree from Catholic University, Washington, D. C.

Father Rimes and his brother, Father Robert Breard Rimes, are the sons of Mrs. W. J. (Annie Breard) Rimes and the late W. J. Rimes, Sr.

Father Robert Breard Rimes is, at present, assigned at Grant Cateau, La.

House Demos Will Consider Income Tax Cuts

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (UP)—House Democrats agreed today to consider income tax cuts at the next session of Congress starting in January.

The decision was reached at a closed-door conference of Speaker Rayburn of Texas and Democratic members of the Ways and Means Committee which handles tax legislation.

The action was interpreted to mean that Democrats are determined to have standby tax reduction legislation on the shelf ready for enactment when the budget permits general tax relief.

There was no indication that today's meeting dealt to any extent with the form that the tax cut might take.

Rep. Cooper (D-Tenn.), ways and Means Committee chairman, said only that the committee will begin hearings on general tax revision in January after Congress returns.

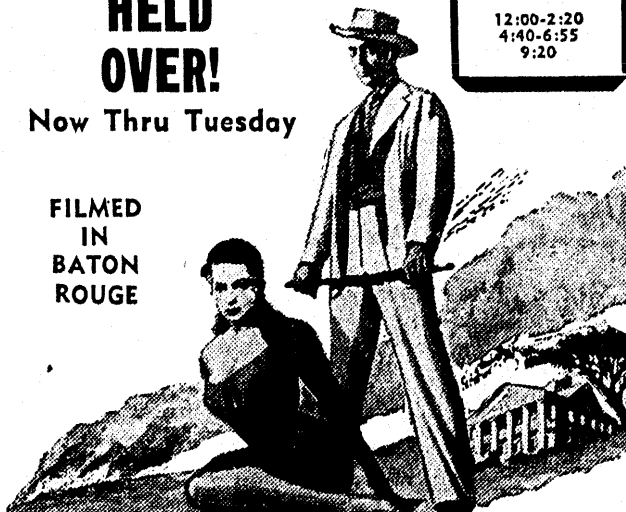

He requested that all individuals and organizations wishing to testify notify the committee by Dec. 2.

ATTRACTIVE TEAM—Cary Grant and Deborah Kerr make an attractive screen team as this scene from Leo McCarey's "An Affair to Remember", in which they are co-starring, clearly shows. The romantic CinemaScope comedy, produced by Jerry Wald and directed by Leo McCarey, is a Twentieth Century-Fox release and may be seen on the screen at the Paramount Theatre beginning Wednesday.

PAST AND PRESENT

Museum Receives Quilt Made Over 200 Years Ago

By ABBIE LECKIE

The Ouachita Genealogical and Historical Society was happy to receive a relic with a most interesting history. Mrs. W. C. Bridges donated a quilt which belonged originally to her great grandmother, Mrs. Elmira Coffee of South Carolina. It is truly a gem, priceless in time, being over 200 years old. The lining is tan "homespun" the meaning of which only a few of our older citizens will know. The top is hand made and quilted; using print as a border and the figure is cut out and applied on plain material for a center.

The quilt is water marked which we understand was due to its being in a trunk which was buried in the ground for preservation during the Civil War. We of the south can understand this statement for many times have we sat around our grandparents or great grandparents' knees and listened spellbound to the tales about the time when everything of value, the silver, money, different priceless items were buried to preserve them from the terrible onslaught of the merciless carpet baggers. The one thing to make the donation perfect would be to have a "home" and be able to really display this gem for all to see and enjoy. Homespun then would be more than a word to our children.

Another interesting item received was one closely connected to the quilt for I am quite sure one must have been used in the preparation of the thread which went into the homespun. This item was a pair of cotton cards donated by Mrs. J. W. Garland of Crew Lake. Mrs. Garland also gave us a red cedar bucket. Thanks Mrs. Garland for the water bucket really brings back memories of life on the farm many years ago. The nearest water supply was a spring; always down under a hill and several hundred yards from the house. At least once each week, the bucket was taken down to the little branch fed by the spring and sand was used to make the beautiful copper or brass bands on the bucket shine like a new copper. How good the water would taste, fresh from the bucket in a tin dipper. We will need a dipper now to go with our bucket. Who has one over fifty years old? Call Fairs 3-2481 Mrs. J. N. Milling or write P. O. Box 573. If you have museum pieces, don't delay, call us today and the Ouachita Genealogical and Historical Society members will be happy to pick them up. As we previously mentioned, we do not have a place to store the large items but please don't destroy them, keep them for we shall have a home and we hope it will not be much longer.

If you have called and one of our members has not picked up your donation, please be patient with us for we are trying to get around as fast as possible. Thanks to Ralph A. Holloway of Oak Grove vicinity and Mr. Coburn of the same vicinity, we are beginning our Indian relics. From these men came an Indian ax or tomahawk each and several stones. Anyone else that has unusual or outstanding items, please don't destroy. Let the museum have them to display.

Also from Mr. Coburn came a cow bell, a large oblong type one with a clear sound that could be heard miles. They really can sound like music to a waiting ear if one is anxious to go places and must wait and milk old "Bossy" first. Also with these items was a curly comb, sheep shears and a pair of mule hams.

These are just a few of the many items used in the process of living during the time of our parents and grandparents. Have you checked your attic and the old ragage or barn? They may look old and rusty, musty and moth worn but they went into the making of history and what may look like "junk" may be a priceless relic in our museum. The Ouachita Genealogical and Historical Society are anxious to preserve these historic items so to do so, they must depend on the good people of this area who has them. Preservation today means a real museum tomorrow.

Report Of Bomb Clears Store In San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 10 (UP)—Nine hundred employees and 2,000 to 3,000 customers were ordered out of Joske's of Texas department store today because of a report that a time bomb had been planted on the first floor.

Police, firemen and a squad of military bomb experts from Fort Sam Houston went over the first floor of the four-story building foot by foot. At last report they had found no sign of a bomb. Vice President J. H. Morris said that, although he believed the warning was the work of a prankster, the store would be closed until Saturday.

'Fire Down Below' Combines Outstanding Starring Cast

Rita Hayworth, Robert Mitchum and Jack Lemmon, three of Hollywood's biggest, star in Columbia Pictures' "Fire Down Below". Coming soon to the Paramount Theatre. Filmed in the West Indies, in CinemaScope with Technicolor, "Fire Down Below" reportedly is one of film-dom's most exotic, exciting romantic dramas.

Bounded by heat, hurricane and the Caribbean Sea, where banana-boats and hunted women ply their trades, "Fire Down Below" is the story of a beautiful woman, a mysterious exile who might run out of countries but never out of men, and of the two adventurers who are ready to tear each other apart for a chance to pick her up.

Briefly, "Fire Down Below" tells about Miss Hayworth, a woman from nowhere who is going no place without a passport, without money, without hope. She is weary with life and with the countless but sterile encounters she has had with men, until she joins Mitchum and Lemmon on their small fishing boat, for clandestine transportation from one tropic island to another.

Her presence aboard the little craft inflames both Mitchum and Lemmon; Lemmon falls in love with her, Mitchum desires her. Lemmon proposes, she accepts and Mitchum promptly sets up a double-cross which loses the partners their boat and sends Lemmon fleeing from the Coast Guard. Lemmon returns to the island as a sailor on a freighter, determined to reach Mitchum and kill him. But he is trapped below decks when his ship hits another; he faces a terrible death as a consequent fire rages out of control.

"Fire Down Below" was filmed on the beautiful tropical islands of Trinidad and Tobago, Trinidad, home of the popular calypso song, also contributed a native steel band, a calypso singer and a group of limbo dancers to "Fire Down Below," and there is a spectacular scene in which Miss Hayworth does a wild and abandoned calypso dance when she is caught up in the throbbing excitement of a street carnival on an island in the Caribbean, home of the popular, new music beat.

A Warwick Production, "Fire Down Below" was written for the screen by Irwin Shaw. Robert Parrish directed and Irving Allen and Albert R. Broccoli produced the romantic drama for Columbia Pictures.

Recall Attempt Continues In Sheriff's Case

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 10 (UP)—Atty. Gen. Joe Patterson said he and Dist. Atty. N. S. Sweet today filed petition seeking to force a recall election for Prentiss County Sheriff George Rutherford.

Sweet said the petition was filed in Prentiss County Circuit Court because the board of supervisors in its July and August meetings "willfully and obstinately" failed and refused to fix a date for such election.

Last June, a three-chancellor removal council, appointed by Gov. J. P. Coleman, conducted a hearing and ruled there was sufficient evidence to warrant an election.

A citizens committee, acting under a 1956 recall law, had petitioned for a recall election on grounds Sheriff Rutherford permitted bootlegging.

The law permits removal of elected officers if they fail to enforce the law.

Patterson said the petition for a writ of mandamus was filed during circuit court vacation under a state law permitting such action in matters affecting the public interest.

Circuit Judge Raymond Jarvis will set the date for hearing the petition.

Patterson said attorney J. A. Cunningham Sr. would prosecute the petition. Cunningham headed the citizens committee which sought the recall election.

The supervisors twice voted 3-2 against setting an election date, saying they wanted to study the case. But the attorney general ruled the board has no authority under the law to review the case "but that is what they seek to do."

a switchboard operator at 12:30 p. m. that there was a bomb in the building. Morris ordered the out over the public address system's employees and customers then.

SOCIETY

Announcement has been made by Mr. and Mrs. Freneau Baird Surguine, Jr., of Orlando, Florida, of the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Mysie Surguine, to Arthur Steffin Fenton, Jr., son of Mrs. Arthur S. Fenton and the late Lt. Fenton, USN, of Pensacola, Florida. They will be wed December 28 in the First Methodist Church. Their engagement was made known at a tea given in June by her aunt, Mrs. Conway Kittredge, in Orlando.

Grace Episcopal Church was the setting for the wedding of Miss Corrine King Theus and Jesse Lucas Adams, III, at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin K. Theus and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Adams. After a honeymoon in Florida the young couple will make their home in New Orleans where Mr. Adams will do graduate work at Tulane University.

Miss Mary Ann Ferguson's betrothal to Earl Christopher Roark, Jr., is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Nowlin Ferguson. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Roark. Both families of West Monroe. The ceremony will be solemnized at 7:30 o'clock in the evening, September 7, in the First Baptist Church of West Monroe with the Reverend Jaroy Weber officiating.

Mrs. Albert Habeeb Ellis is the former Miss Kay Donna Pollard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Earl Pollard, of Delhi. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Habeeb Ellis and the late Mr. Ellis of this city. Their vows were said on August 10, in St. Theresa Catholic Church in Delhi.

Of interest here is the marriage of Miss Mary Anne Cameron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dona Cameron, to Lenard L. Shlenker, son of Mrs. Lenard L. Shlenker and the late Dr. Shlenker. The vows were said in the presence of the immediate families and a few close friends at St. Matthew's Catholic Church. Mr. Shlenker left this week for Augsburg, Germany where he is attached to the 11th Airborne Division. Mrs. Shlenker will join him at a later date.

Miss Melba Jean Loe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Loe is the bride-elect of Louis Whittington, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Whittington, of Kirkland, Washington. Their marriage will take place at 6:30 o'clock in the evening in the Chapel of the First Baptist Church, West Monroe, with the Reverend Jaroy Weber hearing the vows.

Miss Corrine King Theus And Jesse Lucas Adams, III, Are Wed In Ceremony At Grace Church

Grace Episcopal Church was the setting Friday afternoon of the wedding of Miss Corrine King Theus, older daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Kennedy Theus and Jesse Lucas Adams, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse L. Adams. The 5 o'clock ceremony was performed by the Reverend John Maury Allin.

The altar, decorated for the occasion with arrangements of blush pink gladioli, was illuminated by myriads of flickering candles held in tall branched candelabra. Frank Parker, organist, presented the nuptial music and Palmer Jarrell was soloist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her creamy white wedding dress of Chantilly lace and silk mist was fashioned with sculptured lace bodice with unusual cartridge pleats. The great full skirt with inserted lace panels was accented with draped side swags ending in bouffant bows above a long full train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held in place by an open crown of lace trimmed in bridal pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of creamy Ophelia roses and lilies of the valley.

The bride had chosen as her maid of honor, her sister, Miss Lynn Theus and as her other attendants, Miss Sallie Oliver, Miss Mary Jean Cook, her cousin and Miss Helen Theus and Holly McGee, also cousins, Kay Adams, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Joseph Ledoux.

Their mint green lace frocks were made princess style with bodices highlighted with chiffon fuchsia falling to the hemline in graceful back panels. Their slipperers matched their frocks and on their heads they wore a plateau of mint green horse hair braid with pleated loop edge and short tulle veils embroidered in rhinestones.

The groom, who chose for her son's wedding, a gown of pastel pink chiffon with lace bodice and matching hat of tulle edged in lace, and a corsage of pink roses. With them were the grandmothers of the groom, Mrs. Emma Nicholson Alexander, dressed in cream lace with corsage of matching cymbidium orchids and Mrs. Jesse Lucas Adams, Sr. wearing blue lace over taffeta and corsage of rose colored orchids.

Mrs. Ronald Lee Davis, Jr., Miss Sara Lou Sims and Miss Loreta Ray registered the guests in the brides' book and members of the houseparty included Mrs. Jack Rogers, Mrs. Allen West, Mrs. O. R. Lewis, Mrs. J. Luther Kelly, Gina Jackson, of LaGrange, Ga.

Mrs. Noland Harvey, Mrs. Clifton Flinn, Mrs. Bridger Thornhill, Mrs. Louis Peters, Mrs. James Sparks, Mrs. C. D. Oakley, Mrs. Harry Oliver and Mrs. Ray Rhymes.

The bride's table, covered with full organdy ruffles over pink satin, and garlanded with smilax and nosegays of pink rose buds, held the tiered cake frosting pink and decorated with rosebuds and lilies of the valley. Here Mrs. T. Arthur Grant, Mrs. Shelby Hill, Mrs. Grayson Guthrie, Mrs. King Stubbs, Mrs. Kent Beard, Mrs. Charles Ledoux and Mrs. Elizabeth Shlenker served.

The punch table was centered with silver candelabra holding tall pink tapers and epergnes of pink carnations. Serving here were Mrs. Travis Oliver, Mrs. Dewitt Millam, Mrs. Edward Seymour, Mrs. Henry Guerrero, Mrs. Vernon Maish, Mrs. S. E. Huey, Mrs. Kennedy Brown, Mrs. Charles Womack.

Assisting as tea girls were Miss Ila Mae Jones, Miss Jo Libby Johnson, Miss Linda Eby, Miss Sue Stubbs, Miss Sally Hinkle, Miss Kay McCue, Miss Joy Sutton, Miss Mary Jo Davenport, Miss Virginia Cage, Miss Linda Adams, of Brookhaven, Miss.

Attendants Announced For Ewing-Fleischmann Wedding

The attendants have been selected for the marriage of Miss Kathy Jan Fleischmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Fleischmann, of Start, and Robert Ewing III, son of Mrs. Wilson Ewing and the late Mr. Ewing.

The marriage will be solemnized Saturday afternoon, August 24, at 7:30 o'clock at the Grace Episcopal Church. A reception will follow at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club.

Miss Fleischmann has chosen as her matron of honor, her cousin, Mrs. Thomas Brewer Godfrey, Jr. and bridesmaids, Miss Bette Faust, of Rayville, Miss Zoe Snyder, Winnsboro, Miss Mary Ann Jarmon, of Shreveport and Miss B. Godfrey, Jr., James Ewing III and Thomas Dansby.

December Nuptials Planned By Miss Surguine, Formerly Of Monroe

An engagement of wide social interest in Monroe and Orlando, Florida is that of Miss Mysie Surguine and Arthur Steffin Fenton, Jr. who will be married, December 28, at the Orlando First Methodist Church.

Miss Surguine is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Freneau Baird Surguine, Jr. formerly of Monroe, now of Orlando, Fla. Mr. Fenton is the son of Mrs. Arthur S. Fenton and the late Lt. Fenton, USN, of Pensacola, Fla.

A graduate of Boone High School in Orlando, she was a member of National Honor Society, Quill and Scroll and former president of Mademoiselles of Junior Sorosis. At Florida University, she was a member of Delta Delta Delta social sorority.

Miss Surguine is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Freneau B. Surguine, of Monroe and Mrs. John Euell Kennedy of Orlando, and the late Mr. Kennedy, of Monroe. She is the niece of Mrs. Joe Wright Swift and Mrs. Kennedy Brown of this city.

Mr. Fenton was graduated from Pensacola High School and attended Pensacola College. He served in the U. S. Army in the South Pacific and will receive his bachelor of arts degree in public administration from the university, February 1958. He is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity. He is the grandson of Mrs. McNair Whitney Forrest and the late Jefferson Lee Whitney, of Seattle, Wash., and the late Capt. John W. Fenton, U. S. Army and Mrs. Fenton, of Washington, D.C.

Late Afternoon Ceremony Unites Miss Renfrow-Jerry Wayne Frey Vows Said In Methodist Church

A myriad of pink cathedral tapers illuminated the chapel of the First Methodist Church late Sunday afternoon, August 4, when Miss Jeannine Renfrow and Jerry Wayne Frey exchanged their nuptial vows in a quiet ceremony attended by members of their families.

The bride is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. W. Green Renfrow of this city. Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Frey also of Monroe, are parents of the bridegroom.

Performing the double ring rites was the Rev. Dr. George Pomeroy.

Pink carnations decorated the altar and entwined the branched candelabra filled with pink tapers. Matching satin bows complemented the bouquets.

Given in marriage by her uncle, W. Green Renfrow, the bride was attired in a self-style waist-length wedding gown fashioned of eggshell chiffon. The bouffant skirt was underlaid with a matching shade of silk tulle. The sculptured bodice was enhanced by a drape of chiffon. A tiara of seed pearls secured her shoulder-length veil of illusion. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom and an antique opal ring.

Her bouquet was a nosegay of pink rosebuds and stephanotis mounted on a pink satin Bible.

After the ceremony, a small reception was held in the church reception rooms.

Mrs. Lee Jackson of Beaumont, Tex., a cousin of the bride, served the wedding cake. Presiding at the punch service was Miss Donna Faye Hughes.

Upon return from an extensive wedding trip to the west coast and northwest, the couple will make their home in New Orleans where Mr. Frey is a medical student at Louisiana State University Medical School.

Those from out-of-town attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Frey of Minden, Mr. and Mrs. C. Miller Frey of Haynesville, Mrs. E. J. Waller of Shreveport, Jack Renfrow of Baton Rouge, Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Sawyer and children, Tom, Gail and Carol, of Oak Grove and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Jackson of Beaumont, Tex.

Miss Bellan Party Honoree

Outstanding among the social events of the week was the luncheon given by Mrs. S. A. Collins and Mrs. Clifford Johnson, in the home of the latter, on Thursday. The party was honoring Miss Rose Bellan, whose wedding will take place late this month in Natchez, Miss.

Garden flowers were used about the house for decorations. An heirloom china hen filled with perfumed rice bags, and given as favors later, formed the centerpiece for the luncheon table. The small hen scheme was carried out on the luncheon plate with the

Parties Fete August Bride

Miss Geney Wilson, whose wedding to Harry Moresi, Jr., will be solemnized next week continues to be feted with delightful pre-nuptial parties. Last Tuesday her aunts, Mrs. Tom Rankin, Mrs. George Vordenbaumen, of Baton Rouge, Mrs. Roy Meek, of Monroe and Mrs. Joe Boyd Williams, and Miss Nell Williams complimented her with a tea in the home of Mrs. Rankin in Mer Rouge.

Mrs. Joseph Davenport greeted the guests and Miss Wilson received with her hostesses and her mother, Mrs. T. Fitzhugh Wilson. They were also assisted in receiving by Mrs. Alex N. Williams, grandmother of the bride - elect, Mrs. Duke Shaleford, of Jones and Mrs. Mary Moss Henderson, of Bastrop.

A green and white color theme was used in the reception rooms with arrangements of white calladium leaves, green holly berries, magnolia leaves and white daisy chrysanthemums. The same flowers were featured on the tea table in the dining room. Mrs. C. C. Davenport and Mrs. Dorothy Hornbeak, of Monroe poured. Assisting them were Miss Nancy Wilson, Miss Mary Emma Wilson, Miss Paula Meek, Miss Nelwyn Vordenbaumen, Mrs. Hassell Clark and Mrs. Jack Yeldell.

Wednesday Miss Wilson was entertained with a luncheon party given by Mrs. Nolan Harvey in her home on Stuart Ave. Pink and green blossoms in a copper bowl centered the table where Miss Wilson, Mrs. T. F. Wilson, Mrs. Graham Hughes, Jr., of Jackson, Miss., Mrs. William Rhodes, Miss Linda Hornbeak, Miss Minette Smith and Miss Elizabeth Leigh were seated.

Mrs. Felix Willey, Jr., and Mrs. Joseph Dawkins honored her with a morning party on Thursday. Miss Wilson wore a summer frock of printed polished cotton of white with yellow flowers. Her corsage was of pink roses. She received with Mrs. Willey, Mrs. Dawkins and her mother, Mrs. Wilson. The guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Felix Willey, Sr.

Assisting the hostesses were Miss Mary Emma Wilson, Miss Nancy Wilson, Mrs. Clifton Flinn, Mrs. Roy Meek, Mrs. Dorothy Hornbeak, Mrs. Ned Leigh, Miss Jo Marie Ellett, Miss Elizabeth Leigh, Miss Minette Smith, Mrs. Graham Hughes, Mrs. D. W. Rhodes, Mrs. Brooks Dawkins and Mrs. Corbin Turpin.

Godfrey, Jr., Miss Jan Brown, Miss June Lang, Miss Eleanor Cammack, Mrs. Wilson Ewing, Mrs. Godfrey Fleischmann, Mrs. Roy Faust and Mrs. John Snyder.

Draperies For Wide Windows

NEW YORK — (UP) — One new group of drapery prints helps solve the problem of decorating wide window areas. The prints, all landscape scenes, are designed so that each scene is repeated every 96 inches instead of the usual 48. Dolph Moore, who designed them for the D. B. Fuller Co., said the pattern is spread over two panels. The homemaker sews them together for a 96-inch scene. To create even greater sweep, the landscape has been designed on a 30-inch "pedestal" — actually 30 inches without pattern — so that furniture will not hide the design. All patterns are in Eastman's "Andante," an acetate and rayon fabric for which dry cleaning is recommended.

Modern Decor May Succumb To Romanticism

CHICAGO — (UP) — The "hopeless romanticism" of the American housewife may finish off the "modern trend" in home decorating.

A panel of leading designers has decided that the average female consumer is a "hopeless romantic."

"The housewife will not settle for any tiresome monotony in her home or her furnishings," said accessory designer John Van Koert, who makes tricky multiple mirrors one of his specialties.

"Something perverse in the public makes them resent the simplicity that's good for them," Van Koert said. "They won't be held back; they demand the elaborate."

"That's to the vacuum cleaner with all its attachments," he added. "The housewife will be able to clean all the corners and cracks in her new furniture."

The panel said it considered a lot of today's furniture "too predictable," with too much stress on the "grey flannel look."

Gimmicks Will Stay

"The romantic, elegant influence," agreed Forrest Wilson of New York, "could be wonderful for the industry. It gives the housewife a chance to develop her basic psychological tendencies."

Larry Peabody of Boston said people want now to escape from the stark, bare, almost "Puritan" look, typified in the designs of architect Mies Van der Rohe.

Robert Kjer-Jakobsen also was in favor of catering to the romantic housewife.

A half pint of ice cream will provide one-fifth of the daily calcium need of an adult. It also is a good source of protein, riboflavin and vitamin A.

The designers agreed that "gimmicky," super-functional furniture — the room divider that hides a console, table, ironing board, television set, and chair — is here to stay.

"Fantasy and function can be happy together," said Van Koert. The panel indicated, however, that the innate casualness of American families makes this craving for romanticism almost ironical.

"There is nothing more ludicrous than blue jeans sprawled over a 17th century sofa," said Van Koert.

POPULAR SUMMER VISITORS were Daniel Bradfords and daughter Cathy who were guests of Captain Bradford's aunt, Miss Eve Bradford. During their stay in Monroe, several days were spent in Alexandria with friends. They returned earlier this week to their home in Fairborn, Ohio, where Capt. Bradford is stationed at Wright-Patterson Field.

Decorating Tips On How To Hide Air Conditioner

By MARY PRIME
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP) — Conceal the air conditioner if you want your room to look as cool as it feels.

So advises William Gulden, a prominent decorator who contends there is nothing cooling to the eye about an air conditioner standing unadorned in a window.

But how do you hide it, and still get its full benefit? That's a problem Gulden has been solving for apartment dwellers in Manhattan. Gulden is a former president of the New York chapter of the American Institute of Decorators and teaches a course in interior decorating at Queen's College.

Gulden prefers screens to conceal conditioners. These you can make if you want.

Screens or Plants

Rattan, reed or cane makes good sliding or folding screens which let air through. Or try a lattice-work screen. Screens can conceal the whole end of a room, or just the part near the air conditioner.

Plastic screens with the design molded in also work, but they must be staggered because they do not provide ventilation.

Bamboo shades also camouflage conditioners. So do louvered shutters which fold back like phone booth doors. Gulden recommends building a frame out from the windows, then attaching the shutters or shades.

Several tiers of cafe curtains also do the trick, he said. Or bring out draperies from the wall and draw them across the window. Gulden said it's better to put the conditioner on one side rather than in the middle if you have several windows.

MRS. JAMES C. ROLFE

Rolfe-Oge Nuptials Solemnized

Of interest Sunday afternoon was the marriage of Miss Ibrey May Oge to James Cooper Rolfe, son of Joe Sam Rolfe, and the late Mrs. Rolfe of Oak Ridge. The bride is the granddaughter of W. E. Greer, of Alexandria.

The ceremony took place at 3 o'clock in the Oak Ridge Methodist Church and was celebrated by the Rev. Lael S. Jones, of Mer Rouge. During the ceremony there were selections by Mrs. Roy Windsor, sister of the groom, organist, and Miss Mary Sterling Rolfe, vocalist. White gladioli and daisies and magnolia leaves decorated the altar with wrought iron candelabra with tall slender tapers at either side.

The bride was given in marriage by her grandfather. Her gown of white faille was trimmed at the neckline with pearls. She carried a bouquet of tuberose.

Mrs. Charles G. Rolfe was the bride's only attendant. She wore a dress of pink linen with white cut work and a corsage of split

AT SHARRON'S, Miss Sally Oliver was delighted with fashions she found for back-to-school. A student of S.M.U. at Dallas, Miss Oliver is shown modeling a red flannel suit by Rosenblum. MRS. WILLIAM ALEXANDER GORDON

Patricia Baggett Of Bonita Weds William Gordon

An out of town wedding of interest here is that of Miss Patricia Lou Baggett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Alexander Gordon, which was celebrated Saturday in Bay St. Louis, Miss., at Our Lady of the Gulf Church. The ceremony was performed by the Reverend John P. Robinson.

Chilled Salad

NEW YORK — (UP) — Try a chilled consommé salad for a light lunch or supper on a sizzling day. To make, combine a 10½ ounce can of consommé with a 7-ounce can of crab meat, drained and flaked, ¼ cup of finely chopped fresh parsley, and a little lemon juice. Season with a dash of black pepper.

Mr. Baggett gave his daughter in marriage. Her wedding gown was of white embroidered organza with fitted bodice. The full skirt, appliqued with clusters of embroidered petals, swept into a chapel train. Her veil of illusion was held to her head by a tri-point crown of organza and she carried a half crescent of white roses.

Her only attendant was Miss Jacqueline LaFaye of New Orleans. She wore white organza and carried a bouquet of pale yellow aster chrysanthemums. Best man was the groom's brother Carroll K. Gordon. John A. Gordon, another brother and Arthur Hope Baggett, brother of the bride, served as ushers. After a small reception for members of the two families, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon left for a wedding trip to Florida. For going away, the bride traveled in cotton tweed suit of gold and white with brown accessories. They will make their home at 606 Esplanade Ave. in New Orleans.

EMILY POST

Is It Proper To Break Dinner Engagement Or Leave Guest Alone

Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to know what is the proper course to follow in this situation: I was invited to a dinner party three weeks in advance of the date and accepted. Six days before the dinner date I received word that a very dear friend of mine was arriving from another state to visit me for a long weekend. It is during this weekend that I have the dinner engagement. Would it be proper to call the hostess and tell her that I will not be able to go to the dinner party or having accepted her invitation am I duty bound to go. What about my friend? Would it be proper to leave her alone? I would very much appreciate hearing from you on this matter.

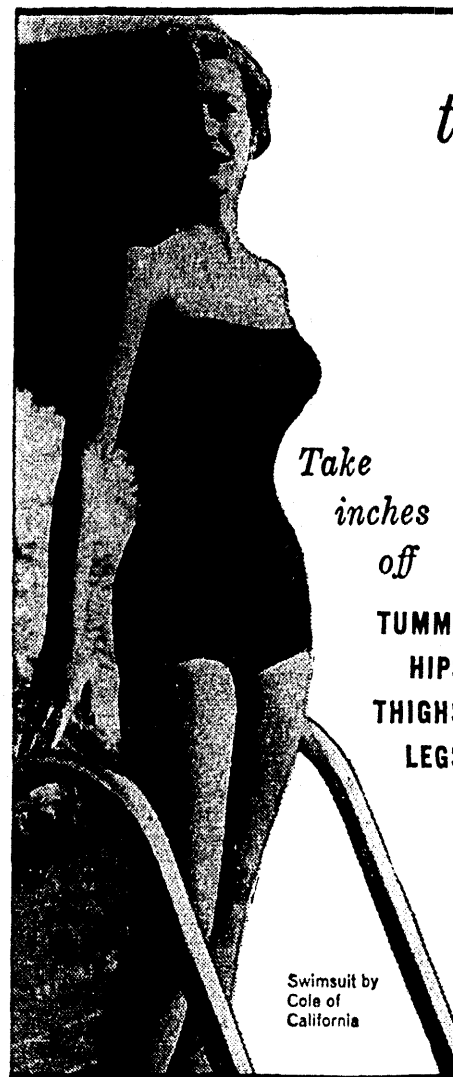

Dear Mrs. Post: We have a neighbor who constantly cuts through our hedge to take a short cut to our house. She is a very nice person and I would like to keep her friendship, but this going back and forth is ruining our hedge. Is there any way we can tell her that we do not like her cutting through the hedge without hurting her feelings?

What five assets are necessary to be popular in school? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Her leaflet "Do You Know Your ABC's in Man-ners?" answers this and other questions for boys and girls of high school age. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Get Ready For School With Health Check-Up

By DOROTHY WHIPPLE, M. D. Check-up with your doctor. Get it in the summer so that you will have time to correct anything that is not just as it should be — time to use the summer vacation to improve your youngsters' health. Our aim is buoyant health, and nothing short of this should satisfy us. What are the signs of real A-1 health? A healthy child stands up straight, has good color, plays with vigor and enthusiasm, sleeps with the utter abandon of childhood. Most of the time he is pleasant and agreeable to live with. A child should have red lips and pink fingernails. Some children will have rosy cheeks, but many healthy children do not have much color in their faces. This is an individual matter and you cannot change it by pouring in vitamins and iron. A good red color to the mucous membranes is evidence of rich healthy blood. A tanned skin looks well on a child but do not confuse a tan with the rosy look of health. Anemic children sunburn and tan just the same as healthy children. If your child's color is not as good as it should be, be sure to ask your doctor to do a blood test. Find out how low the hemoglobin is and what should be done to improve it.

Girl Scout News

Another successful cooking class the third and last this summer, was concluded Friday, marking the end of the council - sponsored activities for Girl Scouts for the summer. The cooking courses, held at the United Gas Service Center, with Miss Frances Baxter as instructor, have been so popular that applicants have had to be turned away. But they'll be first to register next summer! There are going to be many girls proudly wearing the Cook badge and proving helpful at home because of their summer cooking classes. Enrolled in the last class were Susan Cowder, Pat Hogan, Deas Parrish, Judy Bamberg, Elaine Hanna, Mary Kate McCarty, Mary Nell Dennis, Lynne Allen, Milann Gannaway, Jayne Wallace, Carolyn Brooks, Virginia Smith, Jateen Kelley, Jeannette Bush, Carol Fisher, Judith Stigall, Leslie Pearson, Janet Simmons, and Susan Hinton. During the course, the girls presented Miss Baxter a hand painted organza as a gift on behalf of all the girls who had participated.

As a part of the swimming program offered at the local pool, those girls who were Intermediate Scouts and good enough swimmers were allowed to qualify for the Swimmer badge. Girls who passed the tests, according to Truly Ann Chapman, who was their instructor, are: Susan Turner, Susan Ellington, Deanna Furlow, Becky Middleton, Susan Benton, Mittie Wade, Virginia Smith, Susan Hinton, Mickie Varnado, Paula Moreland, Patricia Ayers, Jean Carter, Lynn Hollan, Robbie Hicks, Susan Cowder, Ruth Ann Cowder, Alice Pankey.

WINSTON ODOM, Neville High School student of 903 Downey Lane of Monroe, is shown trying on a school jacket in the popular Neville color at Sears Roebuck & Co. Sales lady, Mrs. Agnes Bamberg explains the fine quality points of these jackets. Sears also has school jackets in Ouachita and West Monroe High School colors in the boys' department at Sears.

Checking records on the day camp at Pine Wood, we find that the 230 girls represented 34 different troops in all parts of the Twin Cities. Five troops had ten girls each, which was certainly good representation. They are Troop 12, Mitchell School, Mrs. E. R. Cunningham and Mrs. G. P. Jordan, leaders; Troop 10, Lexington School, Mrs. S. S. Hollan, leader; Troop 51 Sherrouse, Mrs. Woodrow Hathorn and Mrs. W. L. Allen, Troop 57, Sherrouse, Mrs. C. C. Boyd and Mrs. J. H. Hyde and Troop 60, also at Sherrouse, Mrs. C. C. Walters and Mrs. O. K. Davis, leaders. Troop 59 and 17, both at Highland School had nine girls each. Mrs. N. A. Randall and Mrs. E. L. Womack, Mrs. C. D. Brooks and Mrs. L. H. Wallace are leaders of these troops.

We like to remind our readers from time to time that all local Girl Scout activities are made possible by the contributions of time and effort of volunteers, who give services that money cannot buy. United Givers raises the money for Girl Scouting through contributions from our friends and supporters in the community.

Buckles and bows abound on the new shoes. Some are flat, and tailored looking; others are reminiscent of Pilgrim shoes, apparently an influence of the Mayflower II.

MR. AND MRS. NOLAN DEAN NAQUIN

Naquin-Wiley Vows Spoken At Bethel Church

A double ring ceremony was performed August 3 uniting in marriage Miss Eleanor Wiley, daughter of Mrs. William Wiley and the late Mr. Wiley and Nolan Dean Naquin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Adams Naquin, both of West Monroe.

The vows were said in the Bethel Baptist Church before the altar decorated with baskets of snow white gladioli, potted palms and spiral candelabra burning tall white tapers. The family pews were marked with white satin ribbons. Miss Delores Jackson was the pianist and accompanied Rev. Dick Evans, soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Doyle Sheffield, was wearing a gown of white tulle over bridal satin. The fitted bodice formed a point at the waist and the bouffant overskirt of sequin studded tulle complemented the deep ruffle of the chapel train. Her finger tip veil of illusion fell from a tiara of tulle trimmed with sprays of sequins. She carried a bouquet of white french carnations and lilies of the valley in crescent design.

Miss Julia Dillard was the maid of honor. She was wearing a blue taffeta gown fashioned with fitted bodice. A Grecian drape of matching nylon fell from the shoulders to the hemline of the bouffant skirt. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations combined pink satin loops and tulle.

The bridesmaids were Miss Peggy Williams and Miss Martha Wilbanks. Their dresses were identical to the honor attendant and they carried corsages of blue carnations.

Charles Thompson was best man and serving as groomsman were Randall Wilbanks and Vernon Redmond.

Immediately following the ceremony Mrs. Wiley entertained at home with a reception. She received her guests in a dress of yellow nylon with which she wore white accessories and a corsage of champagne colored carnations. Mrs. Naquin chose for her son's wedding a haese colored dress with a corsage of white blossoms. The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth and forming the centerpiece was the bride's bouquet. The tiered cake topped with a miniature bride and groom was placed at one end and the punch service at the opposite end. Miss Linda Gills poured punch and Miss Peggy Williams served the cake. Miss Mary Ann Naquin, sister of the groom, registered the guests. Mr. and Mrs. Naquin will be at home in West Monroe on their return from a short wedding trip. For travel the bride wore a sheath dress in pastel green with white accessories and a shoulder corsage from her bridal bouquet.

REPORT FROM GERMANY

New Army, Navy And Air Force Is Far Cry From Setup Under Hitler

BONN, Germany, Aug. 10 (AP)—Germany's army, navy and air force are being rebuilt to serve alongside the other armies of the free world.

But how do these German recruits and volunteers compare with the goose-stepping militaristic troops that Hitler directed down the road to defeat? How do they feel about fighting beside troops who were their enemies only a few years ago? Do they relish the idea that perhaps they might have to fight their own countrymen, the East Germans?

So find out, The Associated Press sent three of its veteran German editors to army, navy and air force bases throughout the country.

They are well qualified to write on their particular services. All saw service during World War II—Rudolph W. Panz as a soldier in the Wehrmacht, Herbert Schmitt as a German naval officer and Helmut von Brauchitsch as a Luftwaffe fighter pilot.

By RUDOLF W. PANZ
If Soviet aggression came tomorrow, there would be three German infantry divisions fighting shoulder-to-shoulder with American, British, French and other Allied troops.

They were placed under the command of Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme commander of Allied forces in Europe, on July 1 as West Germany's first major military contribution to the Atlantic Alliance.

What sort of troops are they? After observing their activities in the barracks, in the field and in cantenets at night and talking with generals, platoon leaders and conscripts, I came away with these conclusions:

This youngest army in the world is not an army of softies. The new German soldiers are being trained to match one of the toughest fighters in the world: The indoctrinated and fanatical Communist soldier of the Soviet empire. At the same time, the new German army is probably the most un militaristic military institution in the world. It is leaning over backwards to avoid any similarities with the old German military traditions.

The changes in the life of a German airman since Hitler's Luftwaffe was smashed more than 12 years ago are surprising in many respects.

For the new air force pilots even the language has changed. They have to speak English fluently. Many modern aviation expressions no longer exist in German.

The reforms in basic military training methods have been so sweeping that some recruits today complain about laxity.

"Sometimes it should be tougher," said a 19-year-old volunteer. "After three months, such a volunteer already is through with his basic training and moves on to a special school. If he is healthy and a bit lucky, he gets into a pilot's school."

If not, he can choose between about two dozen other Luftwaffe careers—from truck driver to highly specialized radar operator.

"The new spirit of the air force has been much more drastically dictated by the general technical development than it would have been possible by human reforms," said a staff officer at the German-American air base Fuerstentumfeldbruck near Munich.

American system with its numerous tests in any way. "The entire training program impresses me as being very precise and thorough," said a German air force major with nearly 200 "kills" during World War II. "Its scope and thoroughness insure the best possible training for our future pilots in the German air force. Modern flying is much more complicated and intricate than it was during the war."

Not all the new air force pilots want to fly the most modern and fastest types of planes. Some pilots definitely don't like jet planes. They prefer propeller-driven transports, liaison and observation planes or helicopters.

The number of careers for German air force pilots has been limited by West Germany's renouncement of heavy bombers. A new feature is that the army and the navy have their own flying units.

Altogether, the new German air force will have 1,326 front line planes in about four years. Those planes will be part of NATO's tactical forces. The first 26 German air force officers recently received their diplomas as jet pilots at Fuerstentumfeldbruck.

Apart from a single engine liaison-type plane there are no German-built planes on German air bases. On the fields stand American, British, French and Italian planes with the black iron cross of World War I on wings and fuselage.

Lt. Gen. Josef Kammerhuber, chief of staff of the new West German air force, hopes there is an interceptor plane available for his forces by 1960 that can reach twice the speed of sound. He doesn't think the time has come yet for the German air force to switch over to rockets and remote controlled projectiles in air defense.

Maj. Gen. Emil Otto Foertsch, commander of the 2nd Infantry Division, says: "I want my boys to be tough and efficient soldiers. I want them to be able to shoot any infantry weapon from any position and hit the mark. I want them in top physical condition. But I don't see how this can be achieved by formal drill and goosestepping."

There is definitely a new spirit in the new German armed forces. The "Deutschland Ueber Alles" lets-go-after-them mood that prevailed in the prewar Wehrmacht is gone. Says the commander of a tank battalion: "We know better than anyone else in the world what war means. We want to be left in peace. But if the Russians should get ideas, we're going to be ready for them."

The new spirit is easy to explain. When the military planners of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government started to build up the new army, they had to consider these factors:

1. The military defeat in 1945 and subsequent demilitarization measures by the Allies created a pacifist nation. The majority of the German people wanted no part of anything military.

2. Germany is a divided nation. The West Germans realize that in case of an East-West conflict they would be shooting at East Germans.

3. West German rearmament is a controversial domestic political issue. Socialists oppose rearmament and West Germany's membership in NATO because they feel it hampers the reunification of the country.

4. Modern warfare and the belief that Germany would be a major atomic battleground caused a feeling of "what good will an army do us?"

Despite the apathy of the German people, the green light for rearmament was given on May 5, 1955, through the Paris agreements providing for West Germany's entry into NATO.

Since the army had to be built up from rock-bottom, the planners could adapt it to the new Germany. They threw out the goose-step, the rigid standing at attention and things like the buck private having to ask the "mister corporal" for permission to walk past him on the street. Formal drill was reduced to a minimum.

The break with the old traditions is nearly complete. The name of the forces was changed from Wehrmacht to Bundeswehr, the uniforms are different in cut and color, the rank and unit insignia are completely new, an American style helmet replaces the old Wehrmacht head gear and boots have rubber soles instead of hob nails.

The technical training program—based on American manuals—has been placed under the motto "a maximum of achievement with a minimum of effort." This was also dictated from necessity. For much to the chagrin of the military, the tour of duty for conscripts has been reduced from the originally planned 18 to 12 months, for political reasons. However, nearly 30 per cent of the conscripts have voluntarily extended their tour to 18 months.

The young German soldiers are in good spirits. Their morale is excellent. They are politically alert. They have the feeling that they are doing a job for their country.

It's a tough job building up a navy, however small, if you have to start from scratch.

After almost 18 months of feverish activity, the fledgling new German navy now boasts some 70 boats and small ships, some 10,000 officers and sailors and about a dozen schools, bases and camps.

Everything is still in a build-up stage. At the Flensburg naval under-water weapons school for training sailors in the handling of torpedoes, mines, mine-sweeping gear and the tactics of frog men, there are hardly any torpedo models.

Two or three outdated air-powered Mark 7 torpedoes of British make which the Royal Navy has not used since the first two years of the World War II are all that is available to teach young German sailors.

"NATO hasn't made up its mind yet on which torpedo would be the best," said one officer, "and we're likely to be the last ones to get a new type of training."

Going through the nearby naval signal school, I saw several young sailors busily building some electronic devices for teaching purposes.

"We don't have the money to buy them, so we have to build them ourselves with material we sometimes get from a scrap dealer," was the explanation of an officer.

PLENTY OF MONEY

But Venezuela Is Poor In One Basic Commodity—Freedom For Its People

By LARRY ALLEN

CARACAS, Venezuela, Aug. 10 (AP)—Venezuela, with more money in its pocket than any South American country, is tragically poor in one previous commodity—freedom.

In this land, a little larger than Texas, an ocean of oil is pumping more than a billion dollars a year into public coffers.

But, at the same time, it is a land of little personal liberty.

For Venezuelans, there is the right to talk about or write about almost everything—except criticism of the military dictatorship that is their government, and anything that pertains to it.

This taboo is quite strictly enforced by the Seguridad Nacional, the secret police, which maintains a far-ranging, efficient network of listening posts and paid informers.

But possibly an even greater safeguard against internal unrest is the fabulous prosperity that is welling up from giant, oil-rich Lake Maracaibo.

Some nine oil companies, sinking their wells into the fabulous oil field under the lake, are paying a minimum of 50 per cent of their profits to the Venezuelan government. Last year, nearly three quarters of the government's $1,300,000,000 income came from oil profits.

The money is financing one of the world's largest and most startling public works programs.

The country dazzles with new superhighways, supermarkets, hospitals, schools, medical centers, schools, bridges, streamlined factories, and modernistic, 15-story apartments and skyscrapers in Caracas that are turning this mushrooming capital into a canyon of exciting and futuristic architecture.

Undeniably, in the 146 years of independence from Spain, most of the people of lush, fabulous and incredibly prosperous Venezuela "never had it so good."

All of this is sharply contracted by political backwardness.

Politically, the country is in a vacuum.

The military dictatorship, headed by President Marcos Perez Jimenez, tolerates no opposition. Its word is the law.

In the keen mind of the 43-year-old Perez Jimenez, a bespectacled portly, heavily beribboned army general, liberty is a weapon that belongs only in the hands of those who know how to use it "for the common welfare."

In his opinion—as clearly indicated in recent speeches—only those in his government who blindly obey his orders possess the "know-how."

At the Maiquetia Airport, near the Caribbean Sea not far from Caracas, passengers alighting from international planes find themselves immediately surrounded by olive-green-clad national guardsmen, packing automatic pistols.

Before entrances to the airport administration building, other helmeted guardsmen with rifles are constantly patrolling. Passengers are handled as if they were suspected public enemies or going to a concentration camp.

Along all strategic highways and at all key transport and communication centers and even at the entrances to the sprawling Central University of Caracas, armed guards are on the job.

Police or national guardsmen turn out by the scores at every big sports event. All persons entering a football or baseball stadium are searched for arms.

Venezuelans whisper reports of mass arrests—which the police deny. Once a person is flung into jail or prison, he may stay there for months—and some have been for years—without ever being brought to trial. None of his family may see him. Police may never even admit his arrest.

So, talking about criticizing the government, the average Venezuelan shrugs and says:

"What good would it do? There's nothing we could do about it anyway. Pee-Jay (Jimenez) has the guns, so why talk? At the best, we'd land in jail. Anyhow, we're prosperous—at least most of us—and a full stomach counts first."

Even the newspaper he reads is carefully screened.

Editors have to submit full page proofs to the censors before they can print. Even a simple social item must bear a stamp of approval.

For foreign correspondents, the situation is just as bad. There is a "blind" censorship—that is, a correspondent is never told whether his dispatch is approved or disapproved, slashed or transmitted.

In a sense, the strict prohibition of freedoms of speech and press are a sign of fear. Only the Roman Catholic Church has criticized and gotten away with it.

The church complained that the poor were not getting their share of Venezuela's riches. It also claimed there is "much hunger, poverty and unemployment."

Monarchs, Venezuelans wonder when and if there is to be a general election.

On Nov. 30, 1952, a national election was held for a constituent assembly to draw up a new constitution.

That night, the first returns accumulated from past crops.

The department said prospects for corn, rice and sugar beets improved during the month. Significant to small decreases were indicated for wheat, oats, barley, flaxseed, hay, tobacco and potatoes.

The sorghum grain crop looks nearly three fourths larger than last year's record. The soy bean crop, despite increased acreage, may be 6 per cent under last year.

The corn crop was forecast at 3,065,771,000, which is near average, although a tenth less than last year.

The soy bean crop was forecast at 428,356,000 bushels or about 23 million bushels less than last year.

AG DEPARTMENT REPORT

Crop Prospects Improve In July

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—After suffering from spring floods and planting delays, the nation's crop prospects improved during July to promise a harvest approaching the average of the past five years.

Reporting this in its monthly crop survey, the Agriculture Department said it now appears that the harvest volume will be 103 per cent of the 1947-49 base average.

This compares with 99 per cent forecast a month ago and with the record high of 106 marked up last year.

Prospective Volume
The prospective volume of production will be ample for anticipated needs, particularly in view of reserve and surplus supplies.

British Shadow Mystery Subs

By GEOFFREY MILLER

LONDON, Aug. 10 (AP)—The British navy today shadowed two Polish submarines moving down Britain's east coast, but tonight there was still no clue as to what they were doing or where they were heading.

A naval spokesman said there was no confirmation of earlier rumors that the crews might be preparing to seek asylum here.

The submarines flew the ensign of Communist Poland, but the Admiralty said it believed they were Russian-built craft of the later "M" class, designed for coastal work.

Sighted After Dawn
They were first sighted soon after dawn about 10 miles off the coast of Aberdeenshire, in northeast Scotland. Most of the day they kept a southward course.

showed opposition candidates were trimming the government-backed ones by a margin of 3-1. The Supreme Electoral Board suddenly clamped down on the counting of ballots and announced that the government had won by a big majority.

The armed forces declared Perez Jimenez provisional president on Dec. 2, 1952.

On April 19, 1953, Perez Jimenez was declared the "constitutional president" for five years, without general elections.

Only one opposition party still exists—on paper. "I can do nothing against the government."

In the midst of all this, Venezuela races ahead on its spending binge. It is moving poorer people out of their "ranchos" shacks on mountainsides and using the rancho as a down payment on a modern apartment.

"It is true," said one American diplomat, "that there is not political democracy in Venezuela. But there is economic democracy and a climate of stability—and that's important to the United States government."

MAIDCO Revises Survey On Economics, Industries

Walter Koch, executive vice-president of the Monroe Area Industrial Development Corporation, has reported that the firm's Economic and Industrial Survey will be ready for distribution early next week.

Koch said the publication is "a standing report that is changed or revised as the need arises."

The publication is printed in loose-leaf booklet form and contains both general and specific information concerning business trends, labor supply, transportation, communications, taxes, market area, population, natural resources, utilities, housing, education facilities and several other subjects that must be considered in setting up an industry.

Spread Over U. S.
At present there are 600 of the surveys on file in major industries throughout the nation.

The report has received good recognition and according to local authorities a San Francisco management consulting firm has claimed the publication as one of the best of its kind.

The survey is designed principally for industry but anyone may obtain a copy for two and one-half dollars.

Large Trade Area
The report shows that sixteen northeast Louisiana parishes compose the Monroe trade area. Listed are: Union, Morehouse, East and West Carroll, Lincoln, Ouachita, Richland, Madison, Jackson, Caldwell, Franklin, Tensas, La Salle, Concordia, Winn, and Calhoun.

The 1957 estimates show that a total 95,400 families reside in the area, and 1956 figures show that the area had approximately $376,913,000 in effective buying income.

In Ouachita parish thirty-six firms are shown as manufacturers of paper products, carbon and other chemicals, furniture, machine metal products, lumber, soft drinks, electronic equipment, and other goods.

Transportation is cited in the study as one of the greatest assets of developing and expanding industries, and the publication points out that Monroe is served by barge, rail, motor freight, and air services.

Gas Supply Stressed Natural gas is stressed as the roughly parallel to the coast, but tonight they were steering out into the North Sea and were some 50 miles off Newcastle-Upon-Tyne, in northern England.

At one time they passed within 10 miles off the mouth of the Firth of Forth, a major British naval stronghold.

Most of the day two British coastal minesweepers kept track of the submarines. The Admiralty explained this was because the submarines' mission and destination were unknown.

Check Your Bulbs For Fall Planting Carefully

By MILDRED SWIFT
When selecting your bulbs for fall planting, look over the recommended list in our Extension Bulletin "Daffodils for the Yard." You can get your copy by calling FA 3-2251. It is time to select, then you'll be ready to plant in early fall.

Garden Jobs

This is the last call for planting hot summer annuals for bloom this summer. If we have a very early frost, even these will fail by the wayside. But seed are not expensive and if you're one of those who like to keep flowers in the house (and who doesn't?) here is a list you can plant: Bell's Ireland, cosmos, cleome, bathe, button, cosmos, marigold, zinnias. Others that are lovely in the garden, but do not cut well are: Sweet alyssum, balsam, periwinkle, torenia.

In the list of garden jobs last week I forgot the waterlilies. In the divided and replanted now. On a tour through my turning brown. That's a definite cue for transplanting.

Plants seem always to present a problem. Unless they're over-crowded the effect is lost and when they're over-crowded the plants get mildew or the roots interlock and everything begins to look sick. So, it's best not to plant too much. Most planters are narrow. Either keep a light mulch in your planter or loosen the top soil often. Water regularly. In a gallon of water, once a month, you can dissolve several tablespoons of 8-8-8. Soon the summer flowers will be gone. I hope you've thought of something more permanent to keep the planters from looking so bare. We've talked about those small evergreens before so we won't go into that again.

I'm still waiting for gardeners here to get the "craze" for striped, dehydrated, and dried myrtles. Both are quite modern, not as natural intended them to grow, but interesting. The oldest juniper plants are used so the branches will be large and rustic looking. The entire limb is stripped with the exception of one little bit of greenery at the end. Only the larger limbs are left, others are pruned. I believe this is called skeletonizing the juniper.

The crepe myrtle is stripped of all but the main limbs but this is started when the plant is tiny, so the limbs can be trained upward. I'm working on one. In a few years I'll show you what I mean.

Food News

It's midsummer turkey time. Compare other cuts of meat and take home a turkey. Produce counters take on a special festive look with many locally grown vegetables at attractive prices. For best nutrition and flavor, cook these vegetables in a small amount of water, only until they are done. Eggs are up in price from last month, but still a good buy. Pork and beef are expected to stay at present prices for some time. This is your last call for fresh peaches for the freezer, for preserving and canning. Lemons and limes are budget priced to give you delicious summer drinks and lots of vitamin C. This is the month to pick up extra vegetable fats, all dairy products are low. Milk, and dairy products are low. Ice cream and dairy products are low. Ice cream and dairy products are low.

The large crop of strawberries this year gave the "freezer" extra amounts. Get out your strawberry recipe while this frozen fruit is selling at such a good price. Put some extra boxes in the freezer. This is the season when fish catches are heavy on the coast and inland. To cut down on the food bill, use fish for good eating, protein and phosphorus. When buying fresh fish look for bright, clear and bulging eyes; gills that are reddish pink; scales tight to the skin, bright and shiny; flesh — firm and elastic, springing back when pressed; odor — fresh.

Peanuts and peanut butter are still on the plentiful foods list. Substitute this nut for pecans. Give the children peanut butter sandwiches. Peanuts are high in iron.

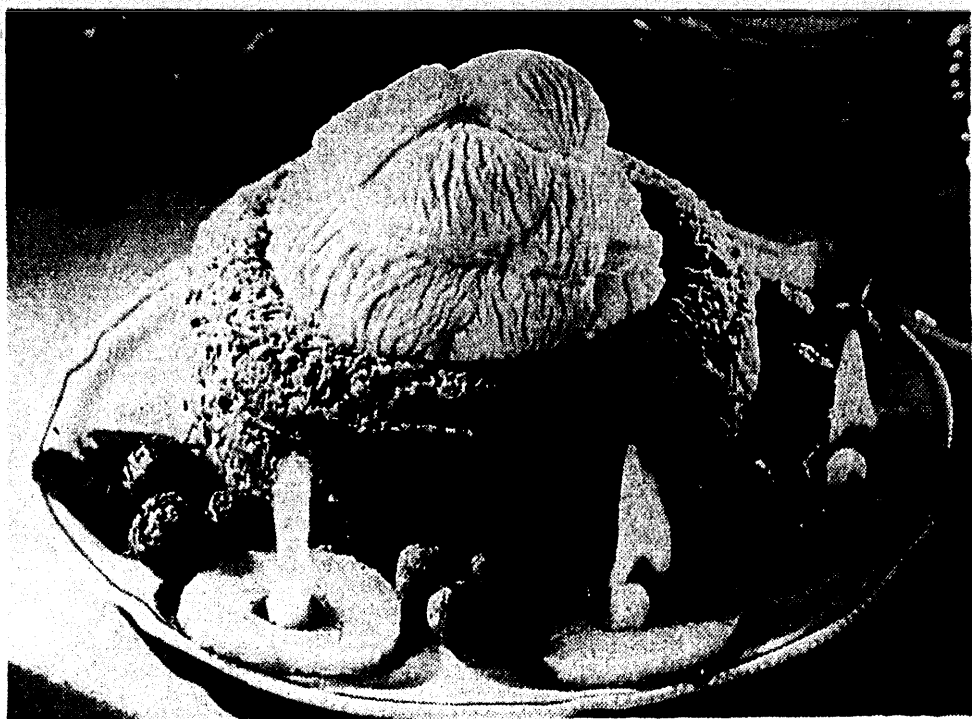

When you buy fresh meat, here's a reminder about storing. Get the meat in the refrigerator as soon as possible (no stop-over for coffee). You may keep pre-packaged fresh meat in self-service stores in the original wrap for a limited time, say three days. Meats wrapped in market paper should be unwrapped, then covered loosely or stored unwrapped in your refrigerator. All meats are best placed on a

A new product, potato flakes, dehydrated mashed potatoes, will be on the market soon. Another time saver for the busy homemaker.

While ice cream is selling at budget price, try this recipe. It will delight the family and cause much excitement.

Butter-Crunch Ice Cream Ring
1 cup butter
1 1/2 cups brown sugar
1/2 cup chopped pecans
6 cups cornflakes
Combine butter and brown sugar in heavy saucepan and heat slowly, stirring constantly. Boil 2 minutes. Add to pecans and cornflakes in buttered bowl. Toss quickly with a form to thoroughly coat cornflakes. Press firmly into well buttered ring mold. Chill. To serve — loosen with spatula and dip in warm water. Invert on serving plate. Fill with scoops of your favorite flavor of ice cream.

To serve a la mode: Place pineapple slices, drained and patted dry with paper towel, in a tray. Dip quickly a cube of sugar in lemon extract and place in the center of each pineapple ring. Touch a lighted match to each dipped sugar cube and carry to the table. The picture gives you an idea of how this will look.

Announcements
I'll be in Baton Rouge all this next week attending Farm and Home Week, learning and seeing the newest in marketing and homemaking to bring home to you. You'll have some excellent programs while I'm away. Monday, Bishop Method of Sewing and Style Show; Tuesday, Putting in a zipper; Wednesday, Marie Hood will give you some of her excellent flower arrangements; Thursday, Jane Bush from Louisiana Power and Light will give you new barbecue ideas and equipment. Friday is children's day. Let the little ones stay up till Open House time to see and hear Frances Flanders, Ouachita Parish Librarian gives some illustrated stories just for them. See you next week.

Ouachita River Provides Attraction For Large Industrial Users Of Water

By H. K. THATCHER
Executive Vice President
Ouachita River Valley Association

The United States of America is the most extravagant water user in the world. The present daily consumption is estimated to be about 80 billion gallons. This consumption is increasing in direct proportion to the increase in population of the nation. The 80 billion gallons of water consumed daily is divided approximately as follows: 24 per cent for domestic use; 51 per cent for agricultural use, including irrigation; and 25 per cent used in industry.

The American people may be a bit wasteful with their water, but in places like the Ouachita River Basin where there is an average annual rainfall of 51 inches with an accompanying run-off, or loss, of 20 million acre feet of water annually to the sea, there is incentive to save.

Much for Industry
Industry can only thrive where there is an abundance of controlled water that is of a quality suitable for all of its varied uses. A report in the Agricultural Year Book of 1955 determines that industries using 10 million or more gallons of water per day are considered large water users and that the water demand for these large water users is as follows: 54 per cent for cooling purposes, 32 per cent for processing, 9 per cent for boiler feed and 6 per cent for sanitation and cleaning, and 4 per cent for unclassified uses. These percentages add to 105, but the 5 per cent over-run is accounted for in the re-use of some water. In addition to the water demand in manufacturing and processing, industry also prefers to be located where the security of modern water transportation is available.

Major Resources Problem
A quotation from a recent report made by the American Manufacturers Association says, "Access to and use of water is now a major resources problem and it is becoming increasingly difficult to find desirable plant locations." The Ouachita River Valley Association has advised the A. M. A. of the high quality and large volume of controlled water available in the Ouachita River Valley.

The industrial water problem has become so acute that the St. Louis office of the Mississippi Valley Association has contracted to make an over-all survey of the Mississippi River and its tributaries in order to determine areas where industries might locate and be able to secure the quality and quantity of water they need. It is reported that the Ouachita River will be one of the first tributaries that will be surveyed. The reason given as to why the Ouachita River was selected is because of the pollution control and abatement program now getting under way on the river in cooperation with the Arkansas Water Pollution Control Commission.

Ouachita Attractive
The Ouachita River area is already attractive to large water using industries because of the two large government-built water control reservoirs have been authorized and a third is under study. These reservoirs, properly managed, will stabilize the available municipal, agricultural, and industrial water supply at a high gallonage level.

Also, the modern 9-foot navigation channel to be built in the Ouachita River to Camden, with a possible extension to Arkadelphia, Malvern, and Benton, is an enhancing factor for the Ouachita River Valley from an industrial development standpoint.

The University of Arkansas Industrial Research Center, in a special 1956 report on the Ouachita River Basin, predicted that because of the abundant water supply and the nature and type of the other natural resources found in the Ouachita River Basin, the future basic industrial expansion of this region would be in paper and paper products, wood plastics, petroleum derivatives, petrochemicals, and in the production and fabrication of light metals.

These types of industries are, for the most part, larger users of industrial water; and, fortunately, there is at this time a plentiful supply of useable water in the valley. New dams with water storage capacities specifically set aside to provide municipal and industrial water will soon increase this supply.

Some indication of the quantity of water used by various types of industries can be seen in the following table:

| Industry, Unit of Production | Gallons Water Per Unit Used |
|---------------------------------|-----------------------------|
| Oil refining, barrel | 750 |
| Gasoline (synthetic) barrel | 16,000 |

SOUTHERN GARDENER

No Such A Name As 'Fall Crocuses' Used BY Many

By W. L. HUNT

You will be in for a big surprise if you insist upon calling the colchicums "fall crocuses." First of all, the strange shape of colchicums would tell you that you were not dealing with any kind of crocus. Crocuses have flat corolla like gladioli, but colchicums grow from peculiar longish corolla with an odd shaped pointed protuberance. This thing is called a "foot" and should be stuck down in the soil. From the very tip of the foot comes the flower, and the new corn for next year will be formed down there, too. The corn which you plant will be entirely used up in making next year's corn.

Colchicums have flowers of many sizes, but the named varieties like the Giant, Autumn Queen, Conquest, Gigantea, President, Quilidge, Premier and Lilac Wonder all have much larger flowers than crocuses. Colchicums are the bulbs which we have been writing about a great deal in the column for some years, now, because they are some of the very best bulbs for the South. They flower from late August till November, and then their leaves come up in early spring. Since as a usual thing, our sudden heat and drought in April dries up the large foliage, we do not have the lingering dead leaves our northern friends and the English gardeners complain of. (It was remarkable how long colchicums leaves stayed with us this past spring, but they were over-run by other plants.)

Advertisements for colchicums are apt to be a bit sensational. The ads say "Blossoms Without Water" or "Miracle Bulb" or other equally exciting things... and they are all right! Look for the ads and order colchicums right now if they are not in your bulb catalogues just coming from the dealers in daffodils and tulips.

Colchicums really will bloom without water. You can set a corn on a table, and it will burst into flower when its time comes. It is better to pot them, however, and then set the bulbs out without breaking their soil up after they have flowered. As for most bulbs, work a big teaspoonful of bone meal into each five-inch pot of rich soil for these colchicums. Your columnist has found colchicums wonderful for sick people to watch. The unfolding of the buds and the almost unbelievable number of flowers which emerge from a single fat corn is intriguing.

As for depth to plant colchicums: set them out with about two inches of soil over the top of the corns. They will come up or go down to suit themselves, but usually, they seem to lie just under the surface where you can thin them out with your fingers after they have been in one place over two years. Of course, their rate of multiplication will depend upon the soil. If you grow them near other plants or under trees, be sure to scatter bone meal and a complete fertilizer around them in February when their foliage is emerging. Such big leaves could never belong to any crocus!

GARDEN CENTER NOTES

Wright Demonstrates Basket Arrangements

By MARY M. JORDINE

Guest Writer Gladys V. Dickerson

"A tskit, a tskit, my brown and yellow basket." John A. Wright must have had songs of summer in his heart Wednesday to have given us so many wonderful ideas for basket arrangements.

A good illustration of subtle relationships of color, textures and form were seen in the basket compositions by Mr. Wright.

A cut glass Bo-Peep shaped basket arranged in the Wright manner would be ideal for a rather formal patio. The design was semi-horizontal with pink ranunculus roses emphasizing in handle and forming the center of interest. Gradation of sizes of roses leads your eye to the outside tips of the arrangement made more interesting because of variety of line. Material — one side was sleek aspidistra leaves the other beautiful small English ivy.

The design was free — standing making it ideal for a table arrangement. The effect was restful and cool. Try it on your glass-top patio table.

A tropical — leaf shaped basket lent itself to a most unusual true horizontal design. Glossy, dark green, Hawaiian ti leaves formed the design. The secondary placement used by Mr. Wright was small orange zinnias. Large red violet fantasy type zinnias made an exotic focal area. This near split complementary color scheme was most interesting.

Pine, chartreuse, ligustrum berries shades of yellow into orange zinnias and marigolds were blended into a diagonal design carrying out the structural lines of the beautiful Italian woven basket. The warm analogous color harmony starting with the yellow green ligustrum berries, emphasizing the neck rest of the basket, into the yellow marigolds to the darker and finally a deep orange fantasy zinnias, formed the focal area and enhanced the handles of the basket. This design too, was free standing and would be most effective on the barbecue table.

Some useful ideas for using baskets: never hide the handle of your basket; in general make your design conform with the structural lines of your basket.

For mechanics use a bought leaded holder or make your own by using aluminum foil with a needlepoint holder or place your needlepoint holder in a tuna can or plumbers lead — anything to hold enough water to keep your flowers fresh and at the same time hold your design in place. Remember when using a clear glass basket make your stems below the water line part of your design or be sure they are concealed.

If plant material is scarce use fresh or artificial fruits and vegetables. You will find the texture of most fruits or vegetables very compatible. Dried plant material is also nice with baskets.

In the fall baskets lend themselves ideally with the fall leaves and grasses. Treat yourself to farm and home week August 12-16 inclusive. Whatever your hobby you will find a noted lecturer will teach you something new.

September 9, the Monroe Garden Club is bringing the noted author and lecturer H. Stuart Artloff. His subject "Color and Design for Every Garden." The meeting is open and will be at Northeast State College.

October 21, the Welcome Garden Club will present Royce Miller Underwood on "Dried Arrangements." The meeting will be held at the Virginia Hotel and open to all garden lovers.

TOPS FOR TEENS — a pastel felt bowler trimmed with velvet and side streamers. Timely, too — her dainty "Roslyn" watch.

Jewelry Gifts Always Right For Students

Be it just a trinket, or a more expensive gift — if it's jewelry, it will take on honors with the "yearning for learning" set!

Whether the young man or young woman is off for elementary school or college, a watch is not only a proud possession but a practical necessity. Price-wise — there's one for every budget.

Water- and shock resistant watches are right for the hard wear given them by young people, and help keep them aware of the importance of punctuality. Or, enhance an older time-piece with a smart new watch band.

If your favorite student is going away, he or she can use a traveling clock, complete with alarm. New, compact, traveling clocks come in a wide variety of styles and sizes. They are ideal too, for the stay-at-home who likes to keep track of homework hours. Rings, especially birthstone rings, have special significance for school age young men and women and are attractive "good luck" gifts.

BOBBY JOE ODEN

Bobby Joe Oden Named NLSC Staff Member

Bobby Joe Oden, member of Northeast State's spring graduating class, has been named director of student activities at the college, President Lewis C. Slater announced.

Oden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Oden, of Monroe, was designated an outstanding journalism major in commencement exercises.

Active in campus affairs during his four-year period of study at Northeast, he held the Student Council presidency during his senior year and spearheaded numerous significant events. Among these was the creation of College Town, a high point of the 1956 Homecoming activities.

Oden directed the last two editions of the Miss Northeast Beauty Pageant, and served as business manager of the 1957 "Redskins on Parade," a traditional student production presented each year.

He has done photographic work for student publications and college news since he matriculated at the local institution. During the 1955-56 school year he doubled as photographer and assistant editor of "The Chachahoula," college yearbook, and he edited the 1957 issue of the annual.

Organizations with which he is affiliated include Gold Key Leadership Fraternity, Kappa Alpha, national social fraternity, and the Wesley Foundation.

Oden's staff post will carry responsibility in assisting organizations in planning events, including ROTC affairs, setting up a school calendar of activities, and working toward the promotion and coordination of all extracurricular programs.

Easy-Care Pleats Prevail In Girls' Wear

It's music to many mothers to hear that the high note of fall fashions is pleats, pleats, pleats. Little girls frequently have problem figures, and for this, pleats are trusted secret-keepers.

Harmonious with pleats are the new over-blouses in many variations, but most often nautical middies.

Thanks to new synthetic fibers, pleats are pleats forever—through many washings or cleanings and after hours of classroom sitting.

Pleats appear to prefer plaids as a pattern and jersey as a fabric. Miniature versions of classic clan plaids are widely used for infants through teens. Madras plaids sound out with their deep tones to attract the eye of many a smaller fry.

Doesn't Know About Spying

MOSCOW, Aug. 10 (AP)—The Soviet newspaper Literary Gazette charged today that Stanley Mumford, wall-scaling theological student from Walnut Creek, Calif., came to the Moscow Youth Festival as a spy for the United States.

The paper suggested in a satirical vein that Mumford should go back to school and study up on the art of espionage.

Mumford was twice detained by Soviet police for allegedly photographing a Moscow factory. The Gazette said the factory involved was a defense installation and added that the film in Mumford's cameras was a special kind usually given to intelligence agents.

(Associated Press correspondent Eddy Gilmore, former AP bureau chief in Moscow, said in London that one of the Soviet Union's biggest design centers for military aircraft is situated near site of the festival.)

(He also said that an area for testing jet engines was for several years, also near the area. Presumably it is still there.)

Mumford was first questioned by Soviet police for four hours July 28 when he was allegedly caught by two factory workers as he climbed a fence into the facility grounds. Mumford said he had lost his way en route to the opening festival ceremonies at

Bancroft Asked To Display Hip-Shooting Timing Device

T. O. Bancroft, honorary Monroe police captain and president of the Bancroft Bag Factory in West Monroe, has received an invitation from Colt Patent Fire Arms Mfg. Co. to display a timing mechanism for clocking quick draw hip shooting.

The Colt Co., in cooperation with the New York Daily Mirror, is sponsoring the Twenty-fifth International Police Tournament at the New Police Pistol Range in Hempstead, Long Island, from September 20-22.

The timing device, originated by Bancroft, has been found to measure exactly the length of time taken in competition with pistols, from the time the signal light is given until the officer completes his shooting at the target.

Better Than Watch
The device is more accurate than a stop-watch, because it works on a mechanical principle of sound-waves.

As the starting button is pressed a red flag comes down in front of the officer, indicating that he is to start firing.

Each blast from the gun is registered on the tape in the machine, through sound-waves which cause a ball-point pen to indicate when each shot is fired.

Tape is fed onto a wheel in the device and exactly 6.25 inches of tape pass under the pen during one second. The timing machine eliminates the human element which takes longer to stop a "stop-watch," and is thus a far more accurate measurement of timing than ever used in previous competition.

Methodism Celebrates 100 Years In N. Louisiana

OAK RIDGE (Special) — Today marks the beginning of one of the greatest events that has taken place in the history of Oak Ridge, for the people there and elsewhere in North Louisiana will celebrate the one hundred years of Methodism in the territory.

In 1807, Gabriel and Hannah Griffing requested from the Mississippi Conference that a Methodist minister be sent them in their new home located at Prairie Jefferson (now Oak Ridge) in what was part of Ouachita Parish at that time. That year, Elisha Bowman was appointed by the Western Conference to fulfill this mission and he found places to preach at Port Miro, Island Des Seard and Mer Rouge but only in Prairie Jefferson did he find a sufficient number of church people for an organized church. He formed a society in the home of Jeremiah Griffing and from this start the Methodist Churches in Bastrop, Mer Rouge, Plantersville, Monroe and even Claiborne Parish (then called Natchitoches) received their backing. Aunt Hannah Griffing of this group was known as the "Mother of Methodism in North Louisiana."

A complete list of the 34 circuit riders who served the Jefferson Church prior to 1847 has been provided for the Louisiana Archives and will be listed in the brochure being printed for the celebration.

In 1847 the Louisiana Methodist Conference was organized and in that same year the post office was established in the Prairie Jefferson territory. During the 13 years following this the church lost some of its early vigor but some of the faithful and far seeing members began a drive for a building to house the Methodist (they had been worshipping with the Presbyterians and Episcopalians in a union church building, which is the present Episcopal Church in Oak Ridge). In 1860 heris of William Davis deeded two acres of land to erect a building and the building program began. During the War Between the States, the partially completed building was used for wounded and convalescing soldiers.

After the war, even though the members of this church had lost nearly all their wealth and were having financial difficulties, they raised $2500.00 to complete this Methodist Church. The large one room structure was provided with two front doors, the men using one door and the women the other. Down the center of the church were tall and massive pillars with a partial partition and pews walls separating the seating sections. These old marks of division are now missing from the remodeled church.

In 1878 a parsonage was built in 1889 "Aunt Pony" Randle collected money for the church bell, which when it arrived was housed separately from the church. In 1906 a vestibule entrance with a belfry was built at the front of the church, and Sunday School rooms added. Only one wide front door was used and in 1934 a new 6 - room parsonage was erected.

The present educational building was added to the church in 1951 and in 1952 plans were made for the restoration of the church building. In 1955 the old building was renovated. Ceilings were lowered, center posts removed rooms at entrance replaced by colonial gallery and columns, but all of this work has been placed within the old church frame.

Through all these past years the Oak Ridge Methodist Church has never claimed a minister as hers alone, having been coupled with other churches in conference affiliation. It is a fitting tribute to this one hundred and fiftieth birthday of Methodism in Oak Ridge, that the church in 1957, became a full time church. Some of the former pastors, of which they number 82 with Rev. Norman Simmons being the 83rd, will return during the week of the Sesquicentennial to preach each night.

There are twelve of the former pastors living — J. Martin Alford, Robert W. Vaughan, P. H. Fontaine, A. C. Lawton, W. D. Milton, Jack H. Mideyett, A. M. Wynne, G. H. Corry, William Irving, Jr., Samuel P. Emanuel, George Cagle and James Poole. Special tributes are being paid to some of the outstanding persons in the history of this wonderful church for the week of the Sesquicentennial. Aunt H. n a n Griffing, Aunt Pony Randle and William Davis are some of the older ones being remembered. One of the outstanding ministers to be remembered is Rev. Dan C. Barr who lived in this community and done so much for Christianity for 38 years.

Besides the church services each night through Thursday, there are many other events planned to make this week an outstanding one. On Monday, August 12th at 4 p.m. will be an historical tour and on Tuesday at same hour will be a special prayer time. Wednesday night there will be an old fashioned picnic supper on the grounds of the Oak Ridge High School, and the people of Oak Ridge extend an invitation to anyone anywhere to attend.

FOR PERMANENT JOBS

IN NEW ORLEANS

Young ladies between 18 and 35 with high school education for training as operators and stenographers in New Orleans. Good working conditions, full pay while in training, paid vacation, opportunities for promotion and other benefits. Transportation to New Orleans and living expenses up to one week are paid by the Telephone Company.

PERMANENT EMPLOYMENT

Apply in person at the Telephone Building, 301 Catalpa Street. Will be open from 9 A.M. until 5 P.M.

- RULES
- Ryan-Polk Chevrolet agrees to pay the sum of twenty-five dollars ($25.00) to the purchaser of any competitive make new 1957 model car (Chevrolet, Ford or Plymouth) who buys that new car by reason of the fact that Ryan-Polk Chevrolet failed to beat the competitive offer with a comparable model Chevrolet, similarly equipped, after that competitive offer has been submitted to Ryan-Polk Chevrolet, and provided that the purchaser is not an employee, or member of an employee's family, of the Chevrolet, Ford, or Plymouth motor companies factory or their subsidiaries, or any dealer, or their employees, whether representing said factories or not.
 - The above proposal is limited to a purchase and delivery MADE BETWEEN AUGUST 4th and 15th, 1957.
 - The Twenty-Five ($25.00) Dollar "Beat the Deal" award will be made to each participant who presents a bona-fide invoice from the delivering dealer in sufficient detail for Ryan-Polk Chevrolet to determine to its satisfaction that the terms of the actual delivery made was the identical deal Ryan-Polk Chevrolet refused to beat, and a signed statement by the purchaser to the effect that the invoice represented, without reservation, all of the terms and conditions of the sale.
 - Request for settlement must be made not later than SEPTEMBER 1st, 1957, where Ryan-Polk Chevrolet has failed to "Beat the Deal" and a Competitive deal was actually made and delivery accepted BETWEEN AUGUST 4th and 15th, 1957.
 - Competitive deals submitted which include time payment plans will be acceptable for comparison if the purchaser's credit is determined satisfactory by Ryan-Polk Chevrolet.
 - In order to be eligible to participate in the Ryan-Polk Chevrolet "Beat the Deal" campaign the prospective buyer must sign an entry form agreeing to the rules of the campaign.

STRIPES TELL THE SUIT STORY—Boys will be wearing both dark and light striped suits this Fall, styled in the authentic "Ivy" manner. Natural lines keynote the jacket stylings; back-strap with buckle is an important detail on the trousers of both suits. Hats, too, are correctly proportioned for young men.

THE USES OF LITERACY: CHANGING PATTERNS IN ENGLISH MASS CULTURE. By Richard Hoggart. Essential Books.

What did the English workingman have a generation ago that he has lost?

To begin with, says Hoggart—who comes from the working people he writes about—the older order, without being intellectual, or art conscious, or sophisticated, nevertheless had a way of life proper to it: the father the breadwinner, the wife the bearer of children, the fixed and appropriate place in the community, the stoic endurance of poverty, the sometimes grinding toil, a realistic laxness in morals, and with it all an integrity, and unpretentious, honest, ethical self-sufficiency.

Now certain values die hard, Hoggart acknowledges happily. But there has been on the mass of workers a mass onslaught from advertisers, press, book publishers, magazines, radio, TV. Some of it was made in America, too, whether crime stories, science fiction or sex novelettes. But Hoggart is severest on his fellow countrymen: I particularly note on the young English popular writer who explained her phenomenal success by saying: "I just go broody at the typewriter."

Hoggart does not despair of laboring men, but he is alarmed because the modern boon of universal literacy has made it possible to feed the public so much stuff that is shockingly illiterate. The book is fun to read, but profoundly disturbing, and don't think it's just an English problem, either.

TWO BOOKS

Each Author Suffered Physically, Spiritually

CAST OFF THE DARKNESS. By Peter Putnam. Harcourt, Brace.

THE ORDEAL OF GILBERT PINFOLD: A Conversation Piece. By Evelyn Waugh, Little, Brown.

Each of these authors suffered a physical and spiritual trial and though in vastly different moods, they have recorded them here.

Putnam, a desultory student at Princeton, had what was called an accident but was, he acknowledges, a suicide attempt. Instead of taking his life, the bullet took his sight. This is the factual record of his struggle against this fearful handicap and also of his ability to return again to a place in society.

Waugh's problem was psychic and he has made a whimsical bit of fiction out of it. He heard voices, he said, and so does his Pinfold, who flees half around the world to escape them. They are not the grand summons of the Maid of Orleans, not the hallucinations of Bridey Murphy. They nag. One minute they sound like simple pests, to shoo or slap away, and another they sound like carping critics of Gilbert Pinfold. Waugh—maybe these voices weren't so unreal as the wily, waggish and perhaps waspish Waugh pretends.

Putnam—though he is no believer in God—thinks he was granted a second chance at life. He bound up again the slackening relations with his family, got a seeing eye dog, persuaded Princeton's Dean Gauss to readmit him, married and had children, and this is his fourth published book. This is the unusual record of an ordeal and its triumphant resolution of a man's weakness yielding to his strength. It also is Putnam's tribute to staunch friends.

Smart And Varied Stylings For Every Masculine Mood

The back-to-school shopping trip is guaranteed to be pleasant this year even for the fashion-disinterested male. A dress-up trend for fall has inspired clothing manufacturers and designers to new highs with their casual wear, too, and there's a great variety of styles to choose from.

Sportsweat, which the older teen and college man rally likes, offers enough variety to fit any campus climate.

Tops on the list of needed items are sport jackets. Stripes, the big news, are of every description. Wool shackets and tweeds head the popularity fabric list.

Muted colors will combine with brighter tones in cotton, cotton-blend and wool shirts. Shirts, of course, are a must.

The Ivy feeling is yielding to an uncluttered, trim, yet colorful and imaginative look in shirts as well as all other casual lines.

Miniature Tartans, madras designs, prints, stripes, and end-on-end constructions giving a luminous look will all be leaders. Styling, though varied, will be neat in all models.

Newest item for outdoor wear is the stadium cape. In gray wool flannel the hooded cape has toggle closings and free-swinging back. It's the ideal thing for football games or the ski tow.

California primary battles usually are a 60-day affair, carried on in April and May before the June test at the polls. This is necessary to keep California in Republican hands if the GOP is to win in 1960.

Sen. Kuchel (R-Calif.) and a number of supporters have not forgotten, however, that Dirksen fought hard for the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio in 1952.
